

New IP rate hike may fuel petition drive

A Granite City petition drive conceived as a protest of past Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) utility rate decisions officially got off the ground Thursday — one day after the ICC indicated it will probably grant Illinois Power Co. (IP) another $112 million annual gas and electric rate hike.

IP spokesman Al Adams, from the utility's company headquarters in Decatur, confirmed the size of the increase discussed Wednesday by commissioners at a public meeting in Springfield. The ICC is expected to meet in Chicago this Wednesday before issuing a final decision.

No details on how the $112 million increase in revenues will be distributed among the company's customers have been released, Adams said. The new rates are estimated to raise average gas rates by seven percent and electric rates by another 10 percent.

Hundreds of Quad City area residents gathered at an ICC public hearing in Granite City last July to speak out against IP's original proposal for a $191 million annual combined gas and electric rate hike. No commissioners appeared at the hearing, which was requested by the Madison Concerned Citizens group.

Fifty citizens who took turns at the speaker's podium to attack the hike were applauded by a crowd of more than 700 packing the Granite City Township Hall. Earlier, representatives of Granite City, Madison and Venice attended another ICC hearing in Springfield to explain the area's high unemployment problems and weakening local tax base.

First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, one of the officials who made the trip to Springfield, called the city's petition drive to elect, rather than appoint ICC members, another attempt to halt a burden to the economically strapped city.

"We have to try to do what we possibly can to get those heavy utility rates as low as possible," Skubish commented Friday afternoon. "To pay the higher utility rates, some must sacrifice some of the necessities of life."

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and the council launched the drive to place the ICC advisory referendum on the April 12 election ballot at the Jan. 4 council session. The ICC had offered a "deaf ear" to consumers, Schuler contended at the meeting. City Attorney John Papa and Sixth Ward Alderman Stephen Saltich drafted the petition last week.

Copies have been distributed to the offices of City Clerk Robert Stevens and Tax Assessor Von Dee Cruse and at the Madison Avenue fire station. Grocery stores have been approached to act as petition-signing centers, according to Saltich.

About 4,700 of the city's registered voters will have to sign the petition by Feb. 10, if the referendum is to appear on the ballot.

If successful, the referendum would serve only as a recommendation to the Illinois General Assembly, who set the rules for the ICC. The ICC members now are appointed by Gov. James Thompson. The ICC regulates more than 200 public utilities, 18,000 trucking companies and some railroad and bus companies.

Ground water problems mount

Five-foot rise in ground water threatens basements

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

A creeping ground water table has gone up more than five feet at one Granite City testing well since August 1981, cautioned City Engineer Monroe Brewer in a Press-Record interview. And he's not certain when the water level will drop.

In plain language, residents who recently guarded their basements against signs of water creeping towards their favorite pool tables or trusty clothes washers should be no less cautious now that the rains have slackened. Thanks to this area's unique geographic characteristics, their troubles might still be "on the rise."

The situation adds a bitter twist to the fate of some ground water "high risk" neighborhoods that already have suffered plentiful surface water troubles. The city also is a victim of the rising underground water, which puts pressure on below-ground sewer system lines, many now deeper than the water table. Sewer pipes have collapsed at five locations, including 2821 E. 23rd St. and 2800 Lincoln Ave. Those two neighboring sites border a portion of Lincoln Avenue, where poor surface water drainage allows ample opportunity for water to saturate the soil below.

City First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish and Everett Morien plan to meet this afternoon with the city engineer to try to find an answer to the recurrent problem there. Officials of the Salvation Army, which is located near the drainage and sewer trouble spot, were expected to attend.

One serious aspect of the ground water problem, according to Brewer, is that our higher water table is probably triggered by circumstances more sweeping than rainfall in the St. Louis-Metro East Area. "This area is special," explained Brewer, who agrees with a 1970 study linking the rise of ground water here with level of the Mississippi River.

"When you get to the levy, the ground water level can change daily with the river," he said. His message to residents is that locally clear or rainy skies are not necessarily signals to either relax or be alerted to what is going on below the surface. What is happening "up north" might count most.

A prolonged state-wide wet period is reflected in ground water table readings recorded by the city's Engineering Department from one of its test wells located at Namok Road and Ames Avenue. In January, 1977, the water table registered seven feet below readings taken at that same location two weeks ago and city records show that ground water usually rises faster than it goes down.

"A lot of people are complaining about basement water," Brewer said, but a lot of the problem is not coming in from the surface, but coming up through the ground."

City locations particularly vulnerable to groundwater seepage include homes with larger, deeper basements, generally built within the last 25 years. Older homes nearer the downtown area have basements only four to six feet below ground level, with window wells above ground level. Some newer homes have much deeper basements, with basement window wells halfway below the surface, according to Brewer.

Still, most basements have remained relatively immune to the rising ground water, but only up to a certain point. The last two feet of rising water could pose a problem to homes built in areas with naturally high ground level areas. In cases where the water has risen to basement levels, pressure is exerted against basement floors and walls.

"Most homes are designed to withstand the perils of ground water," Brewer explained, but he recommended

New challenge to Greathouse

The Madison County grand jury will decide by Jan. 24 whether to consider action against Walter "Shang" Greathouse, State's Attorney Don W. Weber said last week.

Information sent by Weber to Madison County Board members last week included a report from Fred A. Paoletti, a lie detector operator, alleging that Greathouse failed a test Dec. 3. Paoletti is a member of the Bureau of Scientific Services, Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, Greathouse, a Granite Cityan, is president of the Metro-East Sanitary District and a member of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals.

Paoletti disputes Greathouse's negative answers to "did you tell (Assessment Supervisor James) Barton that the Nichols (borrow-pit zoning and landfill access) problem could be taken care of for $500?" did you accept $500 from Barton to influence your official actions concerning the Nichols problem?" when Nichols called you after the zoning hearing, did he ask you if you had received the money?"

Greathouse said the test was administered in a confusing way and that he was uncertain which way to answer questions to deny the allegations. Lie tests are not accepted as evidence in Illinois.

F. Lee Bailey asked to aid Massa defense

Collinsville attorney James Massa is seeking to retain nationally known lawyer F. Lee Bailey for his defense against federal charges that he helped loot the now-defunct Stix & Co. brokerage firm.

A motion filed in U.S. District Court in St. Louis last week seeks a continuance of Massa's trial, set currently for Feb. 28, in order for Bailey to be available to handle the defense.

Massa says a judge is expected to rule on the motion next week. He confirmed that Bailey has agreed to take the case, pending a later trial date.

Bailey achieved national attention when he was defense attorney for Dr. Sam Sheppard in the 1960s and more recently, for Patty Hearst, the heiress kidnapped by the S.L.A.

Massa is currently represented by attorney Barry Short, a former U.S. attorney.

Massa is charged with mail, wire and securities fraud and conspiracy in an alleged stock swindle involving $16 million.

Meanwhile, the cash bail for Thomas R. Brimberry—$100,000 in St. Louis and $100,000 in East St. Louis—was posted Friday by his wife, Janice, but he remained in jail during the weekend.

Prosecutors argued that U.S. Magistrate William S. Bahn of St. Louis should verify that the money was not part of the money related to the Stix &

Co. Inc., stock brokerage collapse of November 1981. The magistrate said he was not certain he could or should do that, and delayed his decision until today.

The case against Brimberry involves 11 federal counts in Missouri and three federal counts in Illinois. The defendant, 39, a former Granite Cityan, is charged with cover-up actions after he had agreed to cooperate fully with federal authorities in their investigation of looting of brokerage accounts.

Mrs. Brimberry posted a cashier's check with Bahn and another with U.S. Magistrate Gerald Cohn at East St. Louis. Bahn said he was unwilling to release Brimberry until he and Cohn can confer and agree on conditions of the bond. The bond was posted in St. Louis after 5 p.m. Friday.

At hearings in which bond reductions were rejected, a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission representative argued that witnesses might be placed in jeopardy and that Brimberry might flee.

A defense attorney pointed out that the defendant has never been convicted of a crime and has kept in regular touch with federal officials for many months. He was jailed in Belleville after being arrested Dec. 14 in Arizona.

If convicted, he would face a potential sentence of up to 70 years in prison and $250,000 in fines.

Late tax list includes 492

The owners of 492 parcels of property in the county whose names appeared on published delinquent tax lists, even though they paid their full property taxes on time, will likely receive a letter of apology from the county.

An investigation was launched by the Press-Record for a woman who said she had paid her taxes on time, yet her name appeared on a delinquent tax list. County officials responded that errors had been made in all 24 townships of the county.

The delinquent tax list was not published in the two major newspapers in the county which endorsed the opponent of Madison County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus in the November general election — the Press-Record and the Edwardsville Intelligencer. The list was published in newspapers which either endorsed Henkhaus' re-election bid or those which took no editorial stand on the general election.

A clerk in Henkhaus' office was asked about the apparently erroneous listings in the delinquent tax publication Friday and responded, "There were some, but it was not due to our office. It was down at the computer."

When asked how many errors there were, she declined to answer, saying that only Henkhaus could answer the question, and he was not in the office.

Pat Morrison, director of data processing for the county, was located later and admitted, "We made an inadvertent mistake here. We were pressed for the deadline. There was nothing wrong with the real estate file, but a cash receipt tape on some of the payments was late, which amounted to 492 parcels."

He said a list of those properties erroneously listed as delinquent was delivered to Henkhaus about 12:05 p.m. Friday and the treasurer's office was to correct the error.

The clerk in the treasurer's office said she believes a new listing of the names of those "who should not have appeared on the 'first' list" will be published and personal letters of apology will be sent out to those taxpayers.

Earlier in the week, Henkhaus was asked why he broke from tradition and did not publish the delinquent tax lists in the Press-Record and Edwardsville Intelligencer and told the Press-Record that he wanted to experiment with alternative notification in the two areas.

When Intelligencer officials pointed out that the notices were withheld from only the two newspapers which had endorsed his opponent, Bob Barton, Henkhaus responded, "Isn't that strange?"

A number of readers, accustomed to seeing the delinquent tax list in the major published newspapers in the county, have called both the Intelligencer and the Press-Record to inquire when the delinquent tax list will be published. Persons interested in the list may call the county treasurer's office at 1-692-4504 to determine if their names may have been among those published in error or to have other questions answered.

GC grocery stores are trying to aid the handicapped shopper

(Editor's note: In researching this feature, the reporter actually visited several stores in a wheelchair, thus experiencing some of the frustrations of being a handicapped shopper, even though she is not handicapped. The experience led to this story.)

By PAT HAY LUTZ
for the Press-Record

When we think of being physically disabled, we seldom place ourselves in the predicament. While we may feel sympathetic towards people whose physical disability confines them to using a wheelchair, walking sticks, walkers or crutches, we can never know the difficulty that handicapped persons encounter when they try to perform chores which we take for granted.

For example, we all have to shop for groceries. We simply go to the supermarket, pick up our things and leave. No problem except to the disabled.

First of all, try parking. Even if the store manager has provided the disabled with special parking spaces, persons whose only handicap is simple-mindedness have usually taken the spots. Then the handicapped have to fight for track space with rude shopping cart drivers. Reaching upper shelves from a wheelchair also is pretty exciting and maneuvering a cart through skinny checkout lanes while unloading groceries and paying for them is a chore, which we take for granted.

All of this sounds rather grim, but these are real problems encountered by the disabled during a simple shopping trip.

Fortunately, the managers from several local supermarkets in Granite City are well aware of these problems and are trying to make shopping for groceries an easier task for the disabled. Dan Byrd, manager of Schnuck's is one of two local supermarket managers who provides parking spaces for the handicapped. However, Byrd's four

County worker hurt in volleyball game seeks workman's compensation

By JIM SCHLUETER

A Madison County assistant state's attorney may get workmen's compensation benefits for an injury suffered in a volleyball game at a picnic, but the case is not as frivolous as it may sound. Assistant State's Attorney Keith Jensen sustained a torn ligament and bone chips in his knee while playing volleyball in a picnic held by local newspaper reporters June 5 at Quercus Grove Park north of Edwardsville. Jensen and State's Attorney Don Weber were both at the picnic, and according to Weber, it wasn't just for fun. They were waiting for a call from sheriff's deputies who were planning an interrogation of Paul Main, a potential witness in the Karla Brown murder.

The deputies were going to Main's house in East Alton that Saturday afternoon, and Weber and Jensen wanted to be present at Main's interrogation in case an attorney was needed. They brought radios to the picnic to receive word from the deputies.

"Keith and I had been working on the case, and we felt we had to stay in contact with those guys," Weber said. "I thought we (Weber and Jensen) had to be together and I thought it was the best way to do this."

"If he had been at the office that Saturday afternoon and had been walking up the stairs and hurt his knee, he would've got paid."

Weber did say Jensen decided to play volleyball on his own. He also said the interrogation of Main resulted in five "vital" statements from the witness.

John Prente of East Alton was arrested on three counts of murder and two counts of burglary with intent to commit rape in connection with the case June 9.

"But I'm not advocating for Keith to get workmen's comp. It's not really any of my business," Weber said. "I don't care whether he gets paid or not."

The issue came up last week at a meeting of the county board's central service committee. Rita Keene, county head of safety and insurance, asked the committee to approve the hiring of an outside attorney to represent the county in the case.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith usually handles these cases for the county, but both Mrs. Keene and Smith agreed that Smith's opposing a co-worker in a workmen's compensation case would result in a conflict of interest.

"Zeke would have to fight his boss and a co-worker," she said. "But we don't have an attorney and Jensen has one."

Committee Member William Haine, Alton, said he sympathized with Smith and suggested the committee give Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer authority to hire an outside attorney upon recommendation of the committee.

The committee approved Haine's motion unanimously and Mrs. Keene said she had some recommendations for the chairman.

According to the safety director, Jensen continued to draw pay and missed no work because of the injury, although he worked at his home for two weeks.

She said after the county hires an attorney, the opposing attorneys will try to negotiate a settlement. If a settlement cannot be reached, the two attorneys will present their cases to a hearing officer of the industrial commission, a panel established by the state to oversee workmen's compensation disputes.

The hearing officer will determine if compensation should be given and how much the employee will receive.

SIUE food sanitation course

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a winter quarter class to prepare students for food service sanitation certification, according to William Crabb, director of University Food Service.

The class will meet Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. in the International Room of the University Center, starting tonight and continuing through Feb. 21. Registration for the class is $45. Coursework includes lectures, demonstrations, films and other visual aids necessary to ready participants for the state food service certification examination, Crabb said.

All food service establishments in the state are required to have a certified supervisor on duty during normal operation hours.

he said. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Office of Continuing Education at 1-682-3210.

Career Advisory Council to meet

The Career Advisory Council of the Granite City School District's Off-Campus Education Program will meet for a "Dutch treat" dinner at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11, at Ravenhill's Restaurant.

New council members will be introduced and reports will be heard from the Health Occupations Advisory Committee.

Don Schaffner, Off-Campus coordinator, said among the topics to be explored are plans for the annual Student-Employer Appreciation Banquet, usually scheduled in May.

Members unable to attend the dinner meeting are asked to contact Schaffner at 877-1512, or 451-2666, station 68.

Chamber, city cooperation great

Some extremely kind words were heaped this week on Alan Richardson, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Schuler gave Richardson primary credit for convincing the Terminal Railroad Association to move its office, and 120 to 130 employees, to Granite City and with arranging the $100,000 community development grant which was the turning point in the move.

Of course, many others were involved, not the least of which were those in the community development office.

Schuler also pointed to additional promotion of the area being coordinated by Richardson and stated at a meeting Thursday afternoon, "I think he's a fine young man and has a lot of potential, a lot of ability and quite a few contacts with the business community in Missouri and the government. I think we should make more use of an Alan Richardson in the community than we are."

Richardson is a bit more modest, saying only that we are making gains in this area, but have to stop with the "gain one, lose one," pattern of attracting one business to the area while losing another.

The loss of Madison Metal Decorating and Caine Steel from the Maers Industrial Park may not be major losses, he said, because there is a chance a St. Louis firm may purchase and reopen them. If not, they are the types of modern, flexible buildings many businesses are seeking, and Richardson predicts, "won't be hard to fill."

We have not seen as much "action" by Richardson as we may want, but it is obvious that he has set the foundation for attracting business to this area and has put the first big bricks in place.

In addition, we are tremendously happy to see the city administration on the same side with the Chamber. The city has brushed off many good ideas from the Chamber in past years. We hope the new spirit of cooperation lasts and spreads to the city council.

Ambulances are still a bargain

While on the subject of Mayor Schuler's statements last week on the state of the city, statements made at Thursday's Optimist Club meeting, he made one which caused us to think a bit.

Mayor Schuler said that, in his own mind, the city ambulance service is just as important as the fire department or the police department in protecting residents of the city.

Just as important? Taxpayers subsidize the ambulance service by about 50 percent. Taxpayers subsidize the fire and police departments 100 percent. It's a point well taken, mayor.

We, in Granite City, have come to rely upon having ambulances only a telephone call and a few minutes away. Yet, we have discovered, no matter how high we make the rates per ambulance call, it cannot pay the high expenses involved with keeping well-trained and qualified attendants on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The ambulance service was created in a hurry, out of necessity. The funeral homes set a deadline and then stopped all ambulance service on that deadline. The city was ready. It beat the deadline.

During the furious debate, some aldermen tried to set a rate structure which would attempt to "break even." Service was expanded to the surrounding cities and townships to add to the revenue and help support the service.

Then rates were raised to try and make the service self-supporting. That was self-defeating. The townships and surrounding city and village quickly pulled out, finding cheaper rates with competing private ambulance services.

So, the lesson should be clear by now. If we want our own ambulance service, close, fast, convenient and with well-trained EMTs and paramedics, it is going to cost a bit, just like the fire department and the police department.

We think it is worth twice the price, since we are paying only half the cost.

Community Development helps

Mayor Paul Schuler's prediction last week that the federally-funded community development grant program will continue for at least "a couple of more years," comes as welcome news.

During periods of local city income and rising costs, the city treasury has come to the point where it is strained doing anything other than paying salaries, even with use of the majority of the city's federal revenue sharing dollars.

Community development is one program that has been used for the good of the community. The city's painting program, for example, has not only allowed many of the city's low-income seniors to have their homes painted, when there is no other way they could have done the work or afforded to have it done, but the program, using about $80,000 of community development funds, has put several Quad-City area college students to work in the past summers, allowing them to earn money to continue their college educations.

About $100,000 of the grant is being used to assist Ferrelloy in expanding its housing and providing more jobs. Another $400,000 will have been used on drainage programs "west of the tracks," when they are completed. Although the full benefit of those drainage programs has not yet been seen, all signs indicate that when the projects are completed, a great deal of flooding will be prevented.

Other funds are being used in studies to show that Granite City is a good place for businesses to locate and to show users of the Lansdowne Treatment Plant that it will be cheaper to move their sewage here than to build a required secondary treatment plant at Lansdowne. The sewage study alone, if it succeeds, could bring millions of dollars into the city.

Madison, Venice, Madison County and other governmental entities in this Quad-City area have made wise use of their community development grants.

Certainly, we would much rather keep our money locally and use it than send it to Washington and see only a portion "trickle down" in the form of community development grants, but realities are realities. If we were not getting the money, some other government entity would be.

We hope the Reagan administration bypasses community development when making its budget cuts. The money has been put to good use in this area.

OKAY, LET ME GET THIS STRAIGHT: THE FIRST BUTTON RINGS MY SECRETARY, NIKOLAI, AND THE SECOND ONE BLOWS THE WESTERN WORLD OFF THE MAP OR IS IT THE OTHER WAY AROUND?

ELDON MEIKAMP

A member of the Press-Record editorial staff interviewed people shopping at Crossroads Shopping Plaza asking them if they thought U.S.-Soviet relations would improve since the death of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev. They were also asked about Yuri Andropov, Brezhnev's successor. Their reactions follow:

Diane Olive, Granite City

"I don't look for relations to improve. I haven't heard that much about Andropov. I think he'll go along with Brezhnev's ideas though. The fact that he was KGB chief leads me to believe he'll be more secretive than Brezhnev."

Eldon Meikamp, Granite City

"I have to doubt that our relations with the Soviets will get much better. They're at a stand still right now, though. Before you can tell, they'll (President Reagan and Communist Party General Secretary Andropov) have to get acquainted. We'll just have to wait and see."

JACK JOHNSON

BILL KRUMEICH

Jack Johnson, Granite City

"It's too soon to tell what kind of leader Andropov will be. You can't believe all the Russian propaganda about him and everything we've heard is media speculation. It's too soon to tell."

Bill Krumeich, Edwardsville

"Reagan will have to bend a little bit if both countries are to accomplish anything. Don't get me wrong, I like Reagan's hard line stance. As far as Andropov's concerned, I think coming from the KGB, he'll be tougher than Brezhnev."

Debate police handling of drinking driver

To the Editor:

Last week, I had a rude awakening concerning our city and police department. I was awakened by a police officer who proceeded to make a right turn after the light turned green. A car sped around the car of a witness, on the right, then attempted to pass me on the right, plowing into my right side.

The driver could not walk straight, was totally unaware that he had been involved in an accident, was unresponsive when asked if he had insurance and his only reply was, "Get Lost." Under the alcohol section on the police report, it was stated that the driver had been drinking, but, according to the officer, there was no impairment.

After I went to the police station to check on some information. This was the situation. No officer was available to administer the breathalyzer test, so the driver was charged with reckless driving. He simply posted his driver's license as bail and they were turned loose!

"My rude awakening" was discovering there are only three on the entire force that are trained to administer the test. I fully understand that the officers have days off and vacations. What I don't understand is why (like other towns, such as Edwardsville) someone can't be "on-call" to administer the test or a suspected intoxicated driver taken to the hospital for a blood test, which is done in some "select" cases. But it is much easier and less time-consuming to just charge the driver with reckless driving and turn him loose.

Just taking his license doesn't mean he won't drive, or drink, or have another wreck and maybe kill someone.

From things I read and hear, Illinois is cracking down on drinking drivers, but apparently Granite City is not aware of this. I realize the city is in a financial bind, but I hope and pray that a person doesn't have to be killed by a drunken driver before the city decides to include a breathalyzer test for every suspected intoxicated driver, in the budget.

It would be very hard, if not impossible to accept if a loved one had just been killed by a driver who had been drinking, previously charged only with "reckless driving" and then turned loose. My situation wasn't that severe but it could happen folks.

A BITTER CITIZEN
(Editor's Note: Chief of Police Ronald Veizer received a copy of this letter and chose to respond. He says the description of the evening's events does not entirely agree with the way the officers on duty recall the circumstances.)

(The arresting officer said he never requested a breathalyzer test because, in the officer's opinion, the other driver was not deemed intoxicated. Veizer says the department has five certified officers to administer the test. Two were on vacation, but the others could have been called in or the Illinois State Police could have been asked to send a trooper certified to conduct the test. Occasionally, the medical center does blood tests for the police, when deemed necessary.)

(Veizer also said the "witness" to the accident was the husband of the letter writer. The arrested driver's refusal to give insurance information occurred while he was in custody in a squad car, a time of stress, and drivers are not required to give insurance information at an accident scene, Veizer said.)

To the Editor:

A dedicated team, The Pulmonary Rehabilitation Program of St. Elizabeth Medical Center is something Granite City can be very proud of.

This program was started a little over two years ago and since that time, has helped a lot of people. They have a group of men and women who have done such a wonderful job that, today, a lot of us are walking around who wouldn't be if we did not have the treatment and care of the people who work in this program. With the help and kindness of these people, we now have something to look forward to. Their skill and dedicated care keep us going when, sometimes, we want to just give up and quit. So, for all of us, I'll just say, thank God for people like you.

Homebuyer information night is offered by realty office

"If you are interested in obtaining information on where to secure low interest, low down-payment, real estate loans, what to look for in buying a home, and what it really costs to buy a home, you should plan to attend Realty World Star, Inc.'s Homebuyers Information Night. The meeting is open to the general public and valuable especially to persons considering purchasing or selling real estate in today's market," says John Blaingame, broker and co-owner of Realty World Star, Inc.

He said the 90-minute meeting will cover a wide range of financing alternatives available to the buyer or seller, with major emphasis on those methods requiring little or no down payment and the most attractive interest rate. Also, there will be projections of what it really costs to buy a home, including those

"many times forgotten" closing costs and how they can be minimized, plus all important, often overlooked, income tax savings, Blaingame said.

Included in the financing discussion will be VA, FHA, FNMA and conventional loans. Loan assumption, contracts for deed, blended rates, adjustable rates and balloon loans also will be covered.

For persons not familiar with home construction, a short presentation will be given on "What to Look for in Buying a Home."

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 18, at the office of Realty World Star, Inc., 3701D Nameoki Road.

There will be no charge for attending, however, due to limited seating, reservations should be made in advance by calling 876-0024, Blaingame said.

Lured to a meeting of the grade school board of education Tuesday night on the pretext that three local elementary schools might be shut down for economy purposes, approximately 200 parents heard Quincy Mathis (school board business agent) and the bureaucracy abuse the Press-Record instead, and then booed and hissed them, shouting, "shut up and sit down." At first bewildered by the sudden unexpected turn of events in discovering that the bureaucracy never did have any intention of closing the three schools but had sent the bulletins to them as "bait" to get them to the meeting, the parents became angry and "took" the meeting away from Mathis and his cohorts, expressing their opinions of them in no uncertain language.

The parents went to the meeting Tuesday night in good faith, believing that the school board had a serious problem confronting it relative to closing the Liberty, Marshall and Logan schools. But they were imposed upon, they discovered soon after the meeting got under way.

A $10,000,000 expansion and modernization program to make the Union Star and Refining Co. plant here one of the most modern and efficient in the corn products industry is underway and is to be completed in a three-year period. It was announced today, Earl B. Pulse, president of the company, said a contract for construction of a $1,500,000 power plant has been signed and that designing and engineering work is completed. Contracts are now being let for the building construction and the manufacturing and erection of the new boiler.

"Last March we seriously considered closing the Granite City plant because of poor labor relations record and because of continuing financial losses. Today we feel that the cooperative attitude of our labor union and the local employees justifies our faith in the future profitable and efficient operation of our plant in Granite City," Pulse said.

The Granite City Board of Education last night adopted additional measures toward organization of the new Granite City High School North, which will open in September. The board established two positions of assistant principal, to be filled later, and 71 teaching or certificated positions on the recommendation of school district administrators. The board tentatively adopted boundary lines for high schools and junior high schools as previously proposed. The district would place 1,824 students at GCIS North, 3,089 at GCIS South, 925 (plus 40 handicapped students) at Coolidge, 668 at Grigsby and 710 at Prather.

Swear in Governor Thompson today

James R. Thompson is being sworn in today for an unprecedented third straight term as governor of Illinois. Adlai E. Stevenson III conceded defeat Friday after the Illinois Supreme Court rejected his request for a recount of the closest gubernatorial race in Illinois history.

With more than 3,600,000 votes cast Nov. 2, the Republican incumbent prevailed by 5,074. The high court ruled 3-2 against the Democrat, saying he failed to present sufficient evidence of irregularities to justify a recount.

He gained 101 votes over Thompson in a recount of 55 of 225 Madison County precincts, where human and computer errors were found. Stevenson tallied an additional 181 and the governor picked up 50 votes.

In other partial recounts, Thompson picked up a net four votes in Greene County and one vote in Jersey County.

The Supreme Court also said today that the law under which Stevenson sought a recount violates the state constitution. The 1977 law calls for a panel of three trial court judges to be named by the top state court to supervise statewide recount contests. But Chief Justice Howard C. Ryan said in his dissenting opinion, said the Illinois Constitution does not empower legislators to "create new courts." He defined the three-judge panel as amounting to a new court.

In the Stevenson case, the justices also concluded that an earlier law, designating the legislature to decide the outcome, also is unconstitutional. The 1970 Constitution specifies that disputed elections must be decided by the courts. Left with no place to turn in his effort to show that he actually won the election, the 1970-80 U.S. senator said in Chicago he will not ask the court for a rehearing, and instead will contest its ruling. Aides had been saying he would carry his appeal to federal courts.

"The election has ended. I congratulate him," Stevenson commented. "We lost, and there is no looking back. We should all support the Supreme Court and Governor Thompson."

The governor said he is relieved by the court ruling: "I think it is not only the right decision, but a brave decision. It would have been easy for him to just appoint a panel and say, 'You decide it.'"

The chief justice described a full recount as "extremely burdensome, time-consuming and costly."

He added that, until the issue was decided, the legislature and governor would have had difficulty giving adequate attention to other problems facing the state government.

Stevenson had said many ballots should be thrown out because of tabulation errors and mistakes like improper initialing by poll judges. The court ruled that some of the wrong marking was due to incorrect instructions given to volunteer election workers.

Ryan, of Ottawa, was joined in the majority decision by Democrat Seymour Simon of Chicago, Robert Underwood of Bloomington and Thomas Moran of Waukegan. Ryan, Underwood and Moran are the three Republican members on the seven-member court.

Dissenting were Joseph Goldenbergh of Belleville, Daniel Ward of Chicago and William Clark of Chicago. Their disagreement was strongly worded, asserting that "it will always be uncertain what was the will of the people."

The attorneys for Stevenson find themselves in the position of having lost their case without having had really an opportunity to argue it.

The three justices questioned the majority's belief that a judicial panel amounts to creating a new court. Disagreeing that the cost of the recount should be taken into account, they said no price tag can be put on justice.

With "a long election night" now behind him, Thompson, previously elected in 1976 and 1978, is taking the oath of office today in addition to two other incumbents, Comptroller Roland W. Burris (D) and Secretary of State Jim Edgar (R).

Also being sworn in are Lieutenant Governor George H. Ryan (R), Attorney General Neil Hagan (D) and State Treasurer James Donnewald (D).

Thompson is 46 years old, Ryan 48, Hartigan 44, Edgar 36, Burris 45 and Donnewald, 37.

Many are predicting that Democrat Hartigan and Republican Edgar will be the 1986 nominees for governor.

Barton has been indicted twice by grand jurors in connection with $1,000 provided by Nichols, a Horseshoe Lake area land owner. Barton says the money was passed along to 1982 political campaign treasurers.

No zoning change was granted, and Greathouse opposed the rezoning request. Nichols and Greathouse deny any wrongdoing.

Greathouse

Nichols, granted immunity from prosecution, is said to have wanted rezoning for his property and also authorization for a culvert bridge, shortening the distance for hauling of dirt to a landfill.

Greathouse, who has not been named in any charge, says he does not know what to think about the allegations; Barton handed him $500 and he handed it back, Greathouse asserts.

County Board members are being provided with alleged statements by Barton, Nichols and Greathouse to state detectives. Weber has urged several times that the board oust Barton, who remains at work. Greathouse's latest appointment to the Sanitary District board was made after he said he would resign if convicted of taking a bribe. He, too, remains on duty and was in a meeting today at the Sanitary District office in Granite City.

Library storytime free each Thursday

A new series of storytime sessions is being held at the Granite City Public Library now through March 10. This free program is given each Thursday at both the main and branch libraries. Each session consists of a half-hour of stories, games and fingerplays aimed at the preschool child. Children should be 3 years old in order to attend and should be able to sit with the group without attending.

Storytimes provide children with exposure to good children's literature and the experience of being with other children the same age. Each child will receive a name tag and attendance sticker for each storytime attended.

Registration is going on now and is limited. Parents may contact the children's department of the main library (876-0530) or the branch library (876-7835) to register or to obtain more information.

Charge driver, 15, with eight traffic counts

Two youths, ages 15 and 16, were arrested near the Chain of Rocks Canal levee on West 20th Street at 3:35 a.m. Friday, after their auto was chased by an officer in a squad car from the railroad tracks on Niedringhaus Avenue.

An officer on patrol in the downtown area noticed a vehicle drive away from the curb outside the El Gato Tavern, 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, and on Niedringhaus Avenue activated the red lights on the squad car. The driver, later found to be the 15-year-old youth, allegedly refused to stop and traveled through several stop signs on Niedringhaus Avenue.

At Illinois Route 3, the auto being pursued turned north in the southbound lanes, forcing a tractor-trailer truck to the side of the highway, it was alleged.

The driver turned west on to West 20th Street where the vehicle and its occupants were unable to escape. The two were returned to El Gato and it was learned from a guard that the occupants of the car had been seen near the side door of the tavern.

A passenger in the vehicle, who initially represented himself to be 19 years old, also was charged with providing and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The 15-year-old youth was charged with fleeing and tempting to elude police, driving without a driver's license, improper lane usage (driving the wrong way), five stop sign violations, curfew violation and prowling.

Business development agency is certified

Economic recovery in the seven county region of southwestern Illinois received an assist today when Small Business Administration awarded "certified" status to the Southwestern Illinois Area-wide Business Development Corporation (SIABDFC) under the SBA Certified Local Development Company Program. As a Certified Development Company, the SIABDFC will be authorized to issue SBA guaranteed debentures and then loan the proceeds to qualified local firms.

Ron Wallace, SIABDFC president, received the official document of certification for the corporation. "This can be one of our more effective tools for economic development throughout the region," he said. "Our organization is new, but the talent, experience, and professional qualifications of our membership put the corporation directly in the mainstream of our region's vital forces."

Small businesses may borrow funds to expand, providing the expansion creates new, permanent jobs, according to Robert White, SIABDFC operations manager. As much as 40 percent of a firm's expansion project may be financed at long-term, low-interest rates through the certified corporation. The 10 percent will be financed through the firm's local bank and the firm itself will put up 10 percent. Preliminary studies of small business needs and potential in the region indicate the corporation may help to create more than 500 new, permanent jobs during the next two years.

Loans are for fixed asset financing only, including land, building and long-life equipment and machinery. Amounts available to qualified firms are based upon the number of jobs the expansion will create. Usually one job created for each $15,000 of the corporation's portion of the loan (40 percent) is the standard applied. The maximum amount available from the SIABDFC is $500,000 per loan.

A firm with valid expansion plans which would create 34 permanent jobs could structure a $1.21 million project loan with SIABDFC participation this way: The local bank would loan $625,000 (50 percent), the SIABDFC $500,000 (40 percent), and the borrower would make a $125,000 (10 percent) "down payment," according to Alan Richardson, SIABDFC secretary and executive

Interest rates on the SIABDFC portion of the loan are approximately that of long term U.S. Treasury Bonds (currently about 10 1/2 percent) for the same term (15-20 years). Participating banks may offer their portion at a variable rate, such as prime plus one percent, but must offer at least a 10 percent term. SIABDFC rates are "fixed" at the time.

Organizing and establishing the corporation (SIABDFC) was the culmination of a year-long effort by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission to improve the availability of capital for expansion of the region's economic base, and encourage the use of innovative financing techniques for new development and redevelopment of the region.

The Commission's Economic Development Council identified the overall goal of the corporation — to increase employment opportunities for residents of the region by the extent of economic distress within the region.

Southwestern Illinois Area-wide Business Development Finance Corporation serves the seven county Region of Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington. Any firm locating or expanding within the region is eligible to apply for its services.

The board of directors is composed of bankers, public officials and business representatives from throughout the region. Each county has at least one banker and one public official on the board.

Ron Wallace, president of Union Bank of East St. Louis, is president of the SIABDFC; vice-president is Joseph Van de Riet, Washington County Board chairman. The president of State Bank of Collinsville, James Sweeney, serves as SIABDFC treasurer. Richardson is secretary.

Other directors are Belleville First National Bank Board Chairman William Badgley; New Baden Mayor Ralph B. Washington County Board Chairman Lester Campbell; St. Clair County Board Chairman Jerry Costello; Randolph County Board Chairman Ed Erma; Madison County Board Chairman Kenneth Evers; First National Bank at Waterloo Executive Vice-President Robert Hoffmann; First National Bank at Nashville Executive Vice-President Larry Maschoff; Bradford National Bank at Greenville President Roger Keelham; First National Bank at Carlyle Executive Vice-President Norman Stein and Bond County Board Member Frank Thompson.

The Board of Directors is elected annually by the members of the SIABDFC. Currently, 32 representatives of banks, local governments, businesses and economic development organizations from throughout the region are members. Membership in the corporation is open to all southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission and is open to all regional economic development advocates whose influence, leadership, and expertise may enhance the corporation's viability and ability to serve the region.

Although the loan capability of SIABDFC currently is limited to that profited under the SBA 504 Program, the corporation plans to acquire its own revolving loan fund through local, volunteer capitalization efforts. Such funds will permit the corporation to participate directly with its own funds, in expansion loans and in leveraging capital from other funding sources.

A schedule, devised by an advisory group of the region's leading bankers, calls for individual "investments" totaling $250,000 to be obtained on a pro-rata basis from the region's 89 banks. "Based upon local assets, banks will be asked to 'invest' one to seven thousand dollars to capitalize the corporation," explained SIABDFC Member William Badgley, who is chairman of the board of First National Bank at Belleville and serves on the SIABDFC board of directors.

Jerry Costello, St. Clair County board chairman and a director of the SIABDFC, said, "This corporation is composed of and operated for the benefit of the entire region. By working together, we can all gain. As our slogan says, we can 'make economic development happen in southwestern Illinois.'"

The Southwestern Illinois Area-wide Business Development Finance Corporation offices are 205 West Main Street, Collinsville, Ill. 62234, telephone 344-4080. Business hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

'Green belt' plan to be studied Thursday

A proposal to halt the planned construction of the circumferential interstate highway east of the Quad-City area, to maintain a "green belt" of farmland around the area and to divert interstate highway funds for improving state highways locally will be considered during an informational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Agricultural Extension building, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

VANDAL COMMITTS MALICIOUS DAMAGE

A malicious vandal caused considerable damage to a 1976 auto belonging to Philip Cory, 3811 Kirkpatrick Homes, he reported at 8:35 a.m. Saturday. The vehicle, which was parked near his home, had a broken headlight and window dent in a door and a hole punched in the door with a tool.

The interior wiring and the dashboard were punched out, the transmission linkage from a console gearshift was broken and damage also was sustained to the glovebox, ashtray and radio, he said.

will offer the presentation, first given Dec. 27 to the Pontoon Beach Village Board.

According to attorney John Haynes of the soil district, the proposed circumferential link to Interstate 270-275 between Routes 111 and 157 could break up a four-mile-wide "green belt" of farmland, which serves as a natural dissipator of air pollution.

Residents of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell are eligible to the state to reserve funds earmarked for the interstate route and seek use of those funds for improving Routes 111 and 3 here and Route 157 in Collinsville and Edwardsville.

Quad-City area residents are being invited to attend Thursday night's meeting and express their views.

Jack Allen

Jack R. Allen, 82, formerly of 29 Briarcliff Drive, died at 5:20 a.m. to day, Jan. 10, 1983, at Meadow View Care Center, Mayville, Ill., where he resided for five years.

Mr. Allen was a native of Fraser, Colo., and moved to this area in 1942. He worked through the Carpenters' Local 630 of Granite City until he retired.

Mr. Allen was a World War II U.S. Army Air Force veteran and was a member of the Evergreen Masonic Lodge 259 of Riverside, Calif., and the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Ruth Allen; one son, Gene McMurry, St. Louis; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Ann Oster, Granite City; one brother, Peter Bonchiff of Santa Rosa, Calif.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Visitation will begin at 7:30 p.m. today at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., where funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11. Burial will be in National Cemetery, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Charles Cholewick

Charles Cholewick, 71, of Mountain Home, Ark., formerly of Madison, died at 4 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 9, 1983, of injuries sustained while driving his automobile at 10 p.m. Saturday in Mountain Home.

Mr. Cholewick, his wife Helen (Gadwell) Cholewick, and other relatives were walking to their car from a community center when the accident occurred, according to word received here.

The couple was taken to the John Hospital where Mr. Cholewick died and his wife is still a patient and is listed in satisfactory condition.

Mr. Cholewick was born in Benton, Ill., and was a long-time resident of Madison. He moved to Arkansas about eight years ago.

While residing in the Quad-City area, Mr. Cholewick was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and worked at Carp's Dry Goods Store for 44 years. He retired in 1975.

He was a member of St. Peter the Fisherman Catholic Church in Mountain Home.

Other than his widow, survivors include two sons, Jerry Cholewick of Granite City and John Cholewick of Pensacola, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Vestman, Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Clotilde Mosby, Granite City, and Mrs. Anne Byk of Chicago, and four grandchildren.

Venice 'King and Queen' contest to benefit community's children

The teenage "King and Queen of Venice" will be crowned and awarded grand-prize round-trip tickets to Disney World.

The April 14 fashion show will be annually sponsored by the People's Organization to Benefit the Children of Venice.

Funds expected to be raised by the "King and Queen" contest will be used by the People's Organization to offer activities for area children, explained the Rev. John Henry Williams.

To be eligible to enter the contest, teenagers must fall into the 14 to 17 age category and must be continuing their education. Winners will be selected from among the top fund raisers for the People's Organization. Contestants can raise funds by selling tickets to the spring fashion show or "selling votes" for the contest, Rev. Williams said.

At the fashion show, grand prize winners, as well as second and third places, will be announced. Grand prize winners will be awarded round-trip airline tickets to Orlando, Fla., to visit Disney World. The trips will include hotel accommodations. They will be chaperoned.

Second-place winners will be treated to steak dinners, free tickets to Six Flags Over Mid-America, and three free tickets to Cardinal baseball games. Third-place winners will be awarded steak dinners and tickets to one Cardinal baseball game.

Those wishing to enter the "King and Queen" contest may begin fund-raising efforts immediately after contesting for the contest, Rev. Williams said.

The People's Organization's annual fashion show will begin at 7 p.m. on April 9 at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway. Adults. Tickets will be $3 for adults and $1 for children.

Thompson said the effective date of this extension is for the weeks of unemployment beginning Jan. 9 and ending March 31.

Overcrowding strains budget at juvenile detention home

An apparent increase in juvenile crime has led to overcrowding at the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home, and the home is facing serious security and financial problems because of it.

Normally, the center houses about 400 juveniles a year, but that number has jumped to in excess of 600 recently, straining both the budget and the manpower of the facility.

Since the tax rate supporting the home is at the maximum, money to house, feed and secure the additional juvenile "guests" will have to come from the other county funds or from outside sources, officials say. Nearly $200,000 a year is generated through contracts with other counties and state agencies and through other programs to generate funds.

The other alternative would be to reduce expenses, which would probably involve staff reductions. That is strongly opposed by Darrell McGibany, superintendent of the detention home, who says only about 13 employees are working full time and to reduce that number would leave only two to three employees on duty per shift to guard 20 or more juveniles.

Thursday, the county's finance committee offered some assistance, agreeing to pay for one person to guard juveniles while they are in the county courthouse. The sheriff's department transports the juveniles from the detention home to the courthouse and back, but has been unable to provide a guard at the courthouse, due to cutbacks in the sheriff's department budget and staff.

Further discussions between county officials and operators of the juvenile detention home are anticipated in the coming weeks to avert a financial crisis at that facility, county sources indicated.

James Armour

Serviceman is promoted

James R. Armour, son of Mrs. Lillian Armour of Madison, and the late Comer G. Armour, was promoted to the rank of first sergeant in a ceremony held in Kaiserslautern, Germany, in December.

The ceremony was conducted by Major Cliff Haller and Mrs. Armour and was preceded by a social event attended by approximately 60 dignitaries and guests.

Armour resided in Madison for 20 years and is now a career soldier in the U.S. Army. He has served as a military policeman for 16 years.

He is married to the former Helderma Heise of Berlin, and they are the parents of two children, Rebecca, age 15, and Jennifer who is nine years old.

Man injured at W. Pontoon tracks

Dennis L. Barnhart, 32, East Alton, sustained an injury at 12:02 a.m. Sunday when the truck he was driving west across the West Pontoon railroad tracks struck a northbound Missouri-Pacific train. The motorist declined medical attention.

Barnhart allegedly reported driving around the lowered crossing gates upon seeing on train was approaching the crossing, but failed to see a second train traveling north at 30 mph on the third set of tracks.

Engineer Dale C. Michael of Tula, Ill., said the engine whistle was blowing and the bell was sounding when the truck struck the train. Similar reports were taken from the train conductor and fireman.

Barnhart was cited for disobeying a signal indicating the approach of a train.

A large plate glass window at the Louis Agency, 2900 Madison Ave., was found shattered at 8:55 a.m. Saturday. Police theorized that flying debris from an early morning accident at the intersection may have been the culprit.

ed that homeowners with soggy basements seek the advice of professionals.

If the foundation is not sealed, water could find its way between the foundation slab and walls. Water also could seep in through tiny wall cracks. A basement floor could bow upward if there is a weak point in the foundation. The result could be cracked basement foundations.

Before a homeowner panics, though, Brewer suggests, he should first check the positioning of rain water downspouts. Water could be spilling into low areas and flowing back towards the home. The simplest solution then would be to put extensions on the spouts.

"Checking downspouts could resolve a lot of problems," the city engineer said.

Residents should be reminded they live in the American Bottoms, a sandy catch water area between the St. Louis and Collinsville bluffs. Water is naturally closer to the surface here, even in the best of weather conditions. Bringing some homes closer yet to the water table are scattered pockets of hard clay, which act to push water up further. Those variables make predicting the "high risk" ground water areas almost impossible, Brewer said.

"I'm not saying people don't have surface water problems," Brewer added. "But some who have never been bothered before could be having ground water, not rain water, problems."

GC grocery stores

Another service Galtier intends to offer is a specialized shopping cart which hooks onto a wheelchair and is easily maneuvered by a wheelchair shopper.

"Every Kroger store in the metropolitan area will get a specialized cart," Galtier said. "I'm not sure when we'll get ours but it has been ordered." Galtier also stated that disabled shoppers may receive employee assistance at any time.

According to Gerry Grieshaber, manager of National Food Store here, his store will be "completely remodeled with handicapped convenience" by the fall of 1983. Parking spaces will be painted in the spring and new checkout lanes where cashiers unload the groceries will be installed.

Presently, the Unicard machine is inaccessible to someone in a wheelchair, but that shopper may use the convenience by having someone at the service desk push in the necessary information. The aisles are wide, but the shelves are stacked in such the same manner as in Schnuck's and Kroger. Grieshaber is willing to offer employee assistance if the shopper makes such a request, and allows disabled shoppers with full loads of groceries to use the extra-wide express lane between 7:30 and 9 a.m.

Grieshaber stated that he is willing to have an extra bagger on hand to accompany a disabled shopper. "I would have one particular bagger ready on certain days if specific requests for assistance are made known," he stated, adding, "I would be willing to set up hours on particular days for disabled shoppers, but I wouldn't want to restrict them to those days," he added.

Employee assistance and call-ahead service presently are offered at the market as well. Louis Cohen explained that some disabled shoppers call ahead and have their groceries ready for pickup. If this is not the preferred method, a clerk will offer assistance to the disabled shopper when that shopper enters the store. The handicapped then may have the clerk shop along with them or may wait while the clerk shops for them.

"We've offered this service for years," Cohen stated. "Some people make use of it all the time." Cohen also intends to install ramps at the curb and paint special parking spaces by spring of 1983.

Bill Kozayak of Kozayak's market offers employee assistance at any time, but admits that requests for special services at his store are few. "We don't have much call for that," he said. "The most we've had to do is to offer assistance."

Kozayak indicated that he does not have curbs, so ramps are unnecessary. He has no plans to paint handicapped parking spaces in the near future. At Shop N Save, disabled shoppers may receive employee assistance and park in designated parking spaces, but the store's policy may pose problems. Store Manager Randy Reddick stated, "We are geared to having the customer help himself, but we would make an effort to help the handicapped shopper if we could."

As with all the stores, Shop N Save's shelving is, inaccessible to the handicapped shopper, but employee assistance would eliminate the problem.

All of the managers offer services to the disabled shopper: if you are disabled, you may contact your store's manager and learn about the specific services offered by that store.

Thompson campaign aide to head commerce commission

Governor James R. Thompson on Monday announced the appointment of the chairman of his reelection campaign committee, Phil O'Connor, as the chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, succeeding Michael Hasten, who is not seeking reappointment.

"Phil O'Connor will make an excellent commission chairman," the governor contended. "He has shown during his years as director of the Department of Insurance that he is fair and impartial in his dealings with all of the interest groups involved. His previous experience in the field of regulation will serve him well in this position."

"I also would like to commend Mike Hasten for his leadership of the Illinois Commerce Commission during the past four years. He has had a difficult job and has performed it with integrity and professionalism," the governor said.

O'Connor, 34, will assume the responsibilities of chairman on January 18, 1983. His appointment requires Senate confirmation. O'Connor currently is serving as political director for the Citizens for Thompson campaign committee.

From July 1979 to July 1982, O'Connor served as the governor's director of Insurance. His accomplishments included bringing competition into the drafting of worker's compensation insurance. He also has chaired the Accounting and Financial Regulatory Committees of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

He formerly was deputy director for research and urban affairs in the Department of Insurance. He also was an aide to Governor Richard Ogilvie. He received his bachelor's degree from Loyola University of Chicago and a master's and doctorate in political science from Northwestern University.

"I look forward to facing this challenge. The issues confronting the Commerce Commission are vital ones that will have a profound effect on the people of our state and nation in the coming years," O'Connor said.

"The questions of adequate energy supplies at reasonable rates and greater efforts at energy conservation will be in the forefront for consumers. One of the vital areas of regulation that the commission faces will be the quickly changing face of our nation's telecommunication network."

Hasten has announced that he will not seek reappointment as chairman or member of the commission. The governor has asked him to serve as an advisor on telecommunications issues to the governor's office and to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

Hasten also has accepted the governor's request to serve on the Governor's Task Force on Regulatory Reform. That appointment becomes effective after Jan. 17.

O'Connor's annual salary as member and chairman is $47,500.

Insurance companies should be told when fireplaces installed

With home-heating prices becoming more costly, many have turned to alternative sources of warmth that may be less expensive, said James W. Schacht, director of the Illinois Department of Insurance, noting that this has brought about a greater use of wood burning stoves, which increase hazards that fires will break out.

"Anyone beginning to use a wood burning stove should immediately report that fact to the insurance company providing fire coverage for their home, for the reason that failure to inform insurers of increased hazards can be a basis for damage-claim denial," advised

Schacht. Jack H. Carter, Illinois state fire marshal, recently reported that during 1981, wood burning stoves were the cause of 187 fires that resulted in the death of 10 persons, disclosed Schacht, noting that Carter also said that during the first nine months of 1982, wood burning stoves were tabbed as the cause of 210 fires.

Schacht said the Fire Marshal pointed out that, "heating with modern high-quality wood stoves is efficient, comfortable, convenient, economical and a great way to keep warm," and noted that Carter also warned, "wood stoves can be hazardous and can cause fires or explosions, if not properly installed or used, are not kept in safe conditions or treated carelessly."

"I cannot stress too strongly how important it is that those who choose to use wood burning stoves contact their insurers to appraise them of this fact. It is much easier to do so now than to have to fret and complain about denial of claims for fire damages caused by hazards not known to insurance companies," said Schacht.

WINDOW SMASHED

A large plate glass window at the Louis Agency, 2900 Madison Ave., was found shattered at 8:55 a.m. Saturday. Police theorized that flying debris from an early morning accident at the intersection may have been the culprit.

Accident results in four charges

After a one-car accident in the 2700 block of Madison Avenue at 3:15 a.m. Saturday, Edward T. Mitchell, 24, of 4009 Braden Ave., was booked on charges of driving under the influence of liquor or drugs, illegal possession of cannabis, illegal transportation of alcohol and reckless driving.

Mitchell allegedly was driving north on Madison Avenue when he lost control of his vehicle while moving into another lane and went off the roadway. His auto traveled through front yards at 2774 and 2776 Madison Ave., and sheared off a utility pole at the ground at the corner of Madison and East 28th Street, according to reports.

An officer called to the scene reported seeing a car drive across Madison Avenue without lights, then return in a easterly direction and make a 360-degree turn in the middle of the roadway.

An off-duty policeman assisted the investigating officer in removing Mitchell from the vehicle. It was alleged that numerous empty beer cans and bottles were inside the car and two full cans were on the front floorboard.

At police headquarters, a cannabis cigarette allegedly was found in Mitchell's shirt pocket. Mitchell consented to take a breathalyzer test, and a Ponton Beach officer administered the examination.

Mitchell was released at 9:25 a.m. Saturday upon posting a $152 cash bond and his driver's license.

Improved customer relations is aim of management seminars

Three one-day seminars on improving customer relations and sales will be offered in St. Louis by the Center for Management Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Jan. 18 through 20.

Each seminar is scheduled at Stan Musial and Biggie's Airport Hilton Inn, located at 10330 Natural Bridge in St. Louis County. Registration for each of the seminars is $175, which covers luncheon on the day of the seminar and all materials for the course. The seminars will meet from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day.

The seminar on how to improve customer relations, scheduled Jan. 18, is designed to improve customer relationships and boost company profits. Participants will learn techniques for recognizing customer desires and needs, reducing tensions and anxieties, and strategies for gaining customer cooperation under various conditions. Coursework also will include identifying problems, problem solving and evaluating alternatives.

The seminar on overcoming objections and closing sales, scheduled Jan. 19, will teach participants how to identify their own strengths and weaknesses, and use those characteristics to the best advantage. Coursework also will include recognizing barriers to communication and learning ways to utilize both verbal and non-verbal communication as techniques in selling.

The seminar on telephone marketing, scheduled Jan. 20, will include action planning for marketing by telephone. Coursework will include techniques and skills for serving existing accounts through telephone marketing as well as developing new accounts.

The seminars should be of special interest to sales and marketing personnel in business and industry as well as people concerned with client relations in almost any field.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting James F. Miller, Jr., director of the center for Management Studies at SIUE, by calling 1-692-2668.

Traffic fatalities lowest since 1946

The 55-mph speed limit was enacted to save gasoline. As a by-product it has saved lives—many lives—by reducing the severity of traffic accidents, according to R. J. Miller, Superintendent of the Illinois

State Police, who says that this, along with strict enforcement of the new driving while under the influence law, has helped Illinois to reduce traffic fatalities for the fifth consecutive year. In 1982, a total of 1,652 people died as a result of traffic accidents on Illinois roads, a reduction of 200 from the previous year. Captain Laimotis Nargelas, Commander, Illinois State Police District 11, said this is the lowest number of traffic fatalities in Illinois since 1946.

In the five-county area District 11 covers, there were 110 traffic fatalities during 1982. This is 21 fewer than in 1981, however during the month of December, 1982, 10 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, compared with eight in December of 1981.

"On behalf of the Illinois State Police and the personnel of District 11," Captain Nargelas said, "I would like to thank the motoring public for their voluntary compliance with all traffic laws and ask for their continued support to make 1983 an even safer year for all who drive our highways."

LEAVES LOOT

A burglar may have been scared off while in the home of Kathy Anglin, 3200 Rodger Ave., it was reported at 12:05 p.m. Thursday. A Captain was on the kitchen table and an empty pillowcase was lying on the floor. Several areas of the home had been ransacked and many items had been pulled from drawers. Entry probably was gained through a rear door.

Kazoophony brings satire to SIUE

Kazoophony, a group of musicians who consider themselves members of the "world's largest kazoo quartet," is scheduled to perform at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Wednesday, Jan. 12.

Wearing tuxedos with no shoes and no socks, the group will perform in the Communications Building theater at 8:15 p.m. Admission is $5, and tickets may be reserved by calling 1-692-2996 or 1-692-2320.

The 10-year-old group has recorded two albums, and, in attire more suited for a Halloween party, has performed on several television shows, including the Mike Douglas Show, Tonight, and Tomorrow, on various radio programs; at the Lincoln Center in New York and with several prominent symphony orchestras.

After their stop at the university, the entertainers are next scheduled to perform at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas.

According to the promoters, "Kazoophony hails from the tiny backyard of Lakewood, where it was originally an 80-piece orchestra. However, budget cuts forced the reduction of the orchestra to a bare-footed five-person kazoo quartet."

"Billed as 'an alleged cultural event,'" Kazoophony boasts the artistic talents of Natasha, Evodur, Izzy, Igor, and "Light Fingers" Faminiski. According to Natasha, head "kazoo-keeper," the group is presently touring the country "to promote the death of cultural enrichment and to make a fast buck on the side."

Kazoophony's program of music, which combines classical music and choreography with comedy, will feature such musical pieces as "The 1813 Overture," "Plight of the Kazoophile," and many other "outstanding" compositions.

The evening of musical satire is presented by the university's Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums.

Heating help available

Peter B. Fox, director of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), announced Thursday that income-eligible households can now apply to receive financial assistance to pay heating bills incurred this winter.

Under $100 million has been earmarked for this purpose and the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP).

Through this program, the state is able to help thousands of Illinoisans make it through this winter comfortably, Fox said. "Last year, IHEAP monies were used by nearly 390,000 individuals to pay heating bills and weatherization of their homes."

DCCA administers the program with money allotted by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Last year the state was granted $108.5 million for the program which included a supplemental appropriation.

Fox noted that the federal dollars are allocated to citizens in two ways—via the state Department of Public Aid for those receiving that type of assistance and via local community action agencies to the public at large.

Fox said eligibility requirements are based on the number of members in each family and their combined annual income. An overdue bill, cut-off notice, or termination of service are not requirements for assistance eligibility.

"We encourage all who need assistance and may be eligible to contact their local community action agency," Fox added. "Persons can also receive additional information about the program by calling DCCA's hotline at 1-800-552-8645."

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission is the administering agency for the heating assistance program in Madison County, where 23 centers are now open to help residents.

Applications for assistance are being accepted at five centers in the Quad-Cities:

—Granite City residents are being asked to call Old Grant School's EOC Center, 2425 Logan Ave., telephone 876-4350, from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Friday to make appointments.

—Dunbar-Johnson EOC Center, Third and Jackson streets, West Madison, which operates from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays on a first-come, first served basis.

—Madison County Urban League office, 306 Broadway, Venice, Mondays through Thursdays from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. and Fridays between 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

—Nameki Township office, 4250 Highway 162, where residents may apply in person between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

—Chouteau Township residents must call the office at 931-1110 for appointments to have their applications filled out.

Course for women in corporate atmosphere

A course to show women how to function effectively and become more powerful in the corporate atmosphere will be offered at Belleville Area College this spring.

"There is a need for this type of course because women are just beginning to achieve management positions," Karen Brown, instructor for the course, said.

"I'm a strong believer that women can have a lot of education in business, but many women are not prepared for the demands and stress business places on them," she added.

Women Aspiring in Management will help students build confidence and become organized to deal with business situations, according to the instructor.

"Very frequently when women first go out into a managerial and decision-making atmosphere, it can be overwhelming," she said.

She cited examples of being the only woman at a meeting and having to travel by herself for business.

Women also need to learn to deal with the high level of competition without losing their perception, she said, adding that in today's business environment a woman with the ability to humanize situations can be very valuable.

While aimed at women, Karen Brown said the information can be valuable to men as well. It can be beneficial to men who don't know how to relate to women in management positions.

During the course, she plans to cover resume writing and interview skills, time management, stress management, communicating, assertiveness training and decision-making.

Her background in business includes work in industry and education. She has a bachelor's degree from Benedictine College in Atchison, Kan., and a master's of business administration from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Women Aspiring in Management will meet from 7 to 9:45 p.m. Thursdays for 16 weeks beginning Jan. 27 at the BAC main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Registration is from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Fridays at the Registrar's Office, room 2306, at the main campus. Phone registration will be from Nov. 29 to Dec. 10 by calling 255-7900.

Registration ends Wednesday, Jan. 19.

The activities fee of $25 allows students to participate in evening and weekend activities at McKendree College.

There is limited space, so early application is being advised.

For information, students may contact the BAC Student Activities Office, room 3280 at the BAC main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, or call 1-255-2707, extension 205.

Vallerie Thaxton, McKendree Student Affairs Office, Pearson Hall, McKendree College, or call 1-337-4481, extension 121.

Art exhibit at branch library

An exhibit of paintings by members of the Granite City Art Guild are now on display at the branch library and will continue to be shown during his month, according to Mrs. Eva Meadows, guild president.

Works by Mary Schuster, Collinsville, and Vincent Ashal of Granite City are featured this month, she added.

The project is a permanent one and each month different artists will be featured at the branch library.

PASSENGER HURT

A collision at Maryville Road and St. Clair Avenue at 7:29 a.m. Friday involved vehicles operated by John C. Schwab, 2208 Bern Ave., and Lester W. Withers of Cottage Hills. A passenger in the Schwab auto, Jim Dolan, 33, of 700 E. Chain of Rocks, sustained a minor injury, the police report states.

'Consumer Fraud' is unit program

"Consumer Fraud" was the topic of the major lesson for this month of the Granite City Unit, Homemakers Extension Association, presented by Mrs. LaNell Lessig.

She discussed fraudulent practices, situations to avoid and what to do and who to contact in case a person has a problem. According to a report it is thought that 78 percent of the elderly are victimized and fail to report their problems, Mrs. Lessig explained.

Members met last week in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt opening the meeting with the pledge to the flag. The Homemaker's Aim was read by Mrs. Lessig.

Guests introduced were Betty Weston and Vera Lynn.

Mrs. Florence Simpson read a report on microwave ovens, and Josephine Uram gave a review on International Friendship money collected.

Hostesses Alma Beckman, Helen Harshany and Helen Slezka served cookies and coffee from a table with a steeple effect tablecloth and a novel centerpiece of straw baskets filled with artificial snowballs.

Mrs. Harshany closed the meeting with the the Homemaker's Creed.

Others present were, Leona Delaloye, Bessie Grasso, Hulda Griffith, Carlisle Hoffman, Effie Johnson, Janette Krause, Toni Lynch, Freddy, McElroy, Anna michels, Wilma Owea, Anne Pare, Mary Radick, Madge Ramsey, Clella Schreiber, Irma Taylor, Louise Thompson, Laura Travis and Adele Wasylak.

Ruth Circle hears Mrs. Donna Kagy

Mrs. Donna Kagy presented a spiritual lesson on "Ruth" at the initial meeting for this year of the Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. The session was held in the church parlor last week.

Sharon Shaffer hosted the meeting which was opened with The Lord's Prayer.

The United Methodist Women's Day will be held on Jan. 23, according to Mrs. Shaffer, circle leader. Women of the church will be in charge of both services on that Sunday, she explained.

Mrs. Dolores Allen, treasurer, reported on the disbursement of some of the proceeds from the November bazaar.

The Least Coin meditation entitled, "Love of Our Neighbors Nourishes Faith In God," was given by Dorothy Whitmer.

A general meeting of the Methodist Women will convene on Thursday, Jan. 13, in Wesley Hall, Mrs. Shaffer noted.

Others present were Ida Cariss, Mary Miller, Irene Kenner, Gladys Potillo, Clara Huber, Lorette Jennings, Lois Lester, Esther Traylor, Marie Klein, Jan Kohl and Joanne Kraus.

Larry Sideners name girl Tyler

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sideners of St. Louis, have selected the name of Tyler Marie Sideners for their second daughter born Jan. 1, at St. Luke's West Hospital, St. Louis.

She has a 3½-year old sister, Courtney Jean. The mother is the former Valerie Jean Valcoff.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sideners Sr., St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. George Valcoff, Granite City.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Donely of Granite City, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Valcoff.

CHILD CONVERSION CLINIC SET JAN. 11

A child conversion clinic will be held on Tuesday at the Second Baptist Church, 2100 Illinois Ave., according to Bob Crawford, Evangelical Director of the Madison County Baptist Association.

A catered dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. to be followed by the clinic from 7:15 to 8:45 p.m., he added.

Guest speaker will be Russell Richardson, Evangelical Director of the IBSA.

Former resident announces girl

Mr. and Mrs. Steven (Laura Maurer) Wilson of Shiller Park, Ill., are announcing the birth of their second daughter born Jan. 3.

The infant has been named Amanda. Moray and she weighed eight pounds, one ounce. She has a 5-year old sister, Liza Marie.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Granite City, Mrs. Patricia Maurer of Collinsville, and Homer Maurer of Oklahoma.

Great-grandparents include Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Owen, Fairview Heights, Mrs. LaVerne Wilson, Gulfport, Miss., Lowell Donnell, Franklin, N.C., Mrs. Daisy Henchell, Murphysboro, Ill., and Homer Maurer Sr. of Carmi, Ill.

Mrs. Engelke guest speaker

The Madison County Genealogical Society meeting will be held on Thursday, Jan. 13, at 7 p.m. at the Immanuel Methodist Church, Social Room, 800 N. Main St., Edwardsville.

Mrs. Georgia Engelke will speak on the "Genealogical History of Six Mile Prairie." This is a descendant of the Gilman Family, who were the first American family to set foot in Old Six Mile.

Mrs. Engelke and her husband live on a farm located in the Six Mile area and this led to her interest in the history of the area. She is a retired school teacher from the Washington School in Granite City.

DANCING HONORS
MARTIN LUTHER KING
The Performing Arts Training Center Dance Company will present "Freedom in Song, Dance and Poetry," a tribute to Martin Luther King Jr., Friday, Jan. 14, at 7 p.m.

The free production is scheduled in Lovejoy Library auditorium on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The PATC Dance Company is the resident dance company at the East St. Louis Center of SIUE.

Mothers Club honors Mrs. Verna Stuart

James Stuart DeMolay Mothers Club held its regular monthly meeting at the Masonic Temple, last week, with the new corp of officers for the year assuming their respective offices.

The meeting was opened by the pledge of allegiance, and the Chaplain Debbie Pritchett gave the Mothers Prayer.

President Barbara McKinney conducted the meeting and plans were made to help the DeMolay Chapter with their annual chili dinner on Feb. 15, from 11 a.m. and to 7 p.m. Cost for the chili, drink and dessert is $1.75.

Verna Stuart told the members how the club was formed and the members voted to give her a life membership which was presented by President Barbara McKinney. Mrs. Stuart has been serving as a member of the Mothers Club for 50 years.

The meeting was closed with hostess Ann Wofford, Doris Payne and Margaret Glendenning serving refreshments to the above mentioned, and to Rene Buckingham, Mary Church, Hilda Few, Liz Gibbons, Jo Meyer, Charlotte Mize, Beverly Singleton, Ruby Sullivan, Pat Tsigolaroff, Mary Stuart and a guest Leah Crow.

Cameo Society Easter project

Cameo Society members discussed various committees to begin working on the Easter Bunny Breakfast, sponsored each year by the organization, at a holiday party meeting held in the home of Kim Harrison.

President Phyllis Talley presided over the business segment followed by a social evening with a gift exchange and stories of Christmas.

Mrs. Linda Yates was in charge of the program.

A luncheon and dessert course was served by the hostess and Mrs. Yates, co-hostess, to Joyce Sullivan, Myrna Tessary, Sandy Demoulin, Judy Reidelberger, Linda Givens, Joyce Tracy, Barbara Mihalic, Cindy Hollingshead, Ellen Voyles and Jane Jackstadt and those named.

you can BANK on it!

WILLIAM PATTON
Exec. Vice-President

Q. I read the statement, possibly in your column, a person should select his banker as carefully as he selects his doctor or attorney. Does this mean in terms of personal characteristics, or in terms of "shopping" for services?

A. Both. Your doctor, your lawyer and your banker need to become familiar with your financial affairs if he is to act professionally in your behalf, and to assist with your financial problems and transactions. Therefore, the first thing you might be interested in, as far as a bank is concerned, is the interest that institution takes in you as an individual, and the comfort you feel with a particular bank and its people as your business partners. Your banker can also make a vast difference in the amount of money you accumulate. Also, consider these other factors: The way a particular bank computes interest on savings for example, can be more important than actual interest rates. You should, ultimately be as comfortable with your financial advisor as you are with your medical and legal advisors.

Anchorage Club fetes members

Anchorage Senior Citizen Club accorded honors to eight members observing birthdays this month at a meeting held last week at the housing facility recreation hall.

One of the honorees made a two tier cake and a doll cake which was later won by Laura Franklin. All present sang, "Happy Birthday" to the guests of honor for the day.

President Augusta Lampe opened the meeting and all repeated The Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag in unison.

Reports were submitted by Leona Bain, secretary, Vivian Mitchell, treasurer, and Woodie Lynn, sunshine chairman.

A Christmas greeting card was received and read from Edna Straub, who is out of town.

A discussion was held on applying for assistance in heating bills with Mrs.

Lampe giving the group instructions on where to make an appointment for consultation.

Mrs. Lampe then displayed a kit of skylard food used by the astronauts that included a chicken patti, frozen dried peas, a cookie, two crackers, a package of chocolate, banana delight chips and a can of juice. All items are to be prepared with hot water and is to serve as the dinner meal, the president explained.

A review was made of the cheese give away project of the Salvation Army which was conducted on Wednesday.

During the social hour games were played and prizes awarded to Reatha Bowler, Georgia Butler, Teresa Walkenback, Edna Isham, Katie Collegen, Carrie Durrell, Edna Hoffman, Rose Schmidt and Marguerite Collier.

Faith-Butler

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Butler, 2017 Harris Ave., Madison, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pamela Denise Butler to Edward Levi Faith, son of Mrs. Wanda Faith, 1816 Ferguson Ave.

Miss Butler is currently attending Granite City High School North and will graduate in June. She also is employed at Prairie Farms Dairy as a key punch operator.

Her fiancé was graduated in 1977 from North High School and currently working as a foreman for Hill Corp., at Granite City Steel.

The engaged couple are completing plans for a Sept. 18 wedding to take place at City Temple Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Jack Gouy officiating.

Airman Rozell

returns to base

U.S. Navy Airman Kenneth Rozell has returned to duty aboard the USS Lexington homeported in Pensacola, Fla., following a 10-day leave at home.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Judy) Free and David Rozell, all of Granite City.

During the holiday leave, the serviceman also visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Massey, Mrs. Thelma Rozell and Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mathis, all of Granite City.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkinson

Wilkinson-Beasley

The wedding of Miss Mary M. Beasley, daughter of Mrs. C. T. Beasley, 2123 State St., and the late C. T. Beasley, and James "Hub" Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Wilkinson of West Frankfort, Ill., was solemnized on Nov. 27, at St. Joseph Catholic Church. Officiating at the 7 o'clock evening ceremony was the Rev. Gary Perret, Organist Cleta Judd accompanied Mrs. Ann Pieper as she sang, "Ave Maria," "Sunrise, Sunset," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was hosted at Stan Musial & Biggies in St. Louis, immediately following the service. Caroline Wilkinson, a niece of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Mike and Jim Beasley, brothers of the bride, escorted their sister down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage.

Honor attendant was Mary Bishop, a cousin of the bride, and the bridesmaids included Antoinette Ellis, another sister of the bride, and Jane Leech, the groom's sister.

Michelle Beasley, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and Michael Beasley and Chris Leech, nephews of the bride and groom, were ring bearers.

The groom chose his brother, Bryan Wilkinson, as best man, John Wilkinson, another brother of the groom, Doug Leech, the groom's brother-in-law, and Mike and Jim Beasley, brothers of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Michael Wilkinson, the groom's nephew, was the candlelighter. A 1973 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride is employed as a district manager of Kemper Insurance in Clayton, Mo.

The groom was graduated from West Frankfort High School and Illinois State University. He presently is an employee of the Industrial Engineering Department at Granite City Steel.

They are now residing in Granite City.

Esther Circle opens season

Esther Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church opened its 1983 meetings, last week, with a session at the church.

Ruby Corbitt offered the opening prayer followed by a meeting conducted by Leader Ethel Lerch.

Maxine Hacke presented a lesson on "The Life of Esther" and Mrs. Dorothy Frohardt spoke on the topic, "Whom Gave Least Coin Devotion."

Announcements included a general meeting of the United Methodist Women on Jan. 20, and the United Methodist Women's Sunday on Jan. 23 at both the 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. services. Guest speaker will be Captain Barbara Salsbury of the Salvation Army.

Hostesses Shirley Lane and Kathleen Offt served refreshments to those named and to Grace Padlock, Evelyn Hamrick, Jean Wallace, Eula Davis, Pearl Campbell, and Pauline Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams

Williams-Wright

Miss Gay Elizabeth Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenn Wright, Granite City, became the bride of John Gilbert Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Joe Williams, Granite City, on Nov. 13, at Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Nick Poplichak officiated at the 6 p.m. ceremony preceded by nuptial selections provided by Marsha Fisher, a cousin of the bride, at the organ, and soloists, Alicia Poplichak and Charlie Whittell.

Guests were received at a reception held in the Granite City Township Hall immediately following the service.

The newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Williams departed for a honeymoon trip to French Lick Springs Resort in Indiana.

Honor attendant was Paula Parker, a cousin of the bride, and bridesmaids included Linda Welly and Molly Williams, a sister of the groom.

The groom chose Rick Curtis as best man with Roger Albert and Sean Bain, the bride's cousin, as groomsmen.

Ushers and candlelighters were Glenn Wright and David Williams, brothers of the bride.

Christi Parker and Shea Bain, cousins of the bride, served as the flower girl and ring bearer.

Both young people graduated in 1981 from Granite City High School South. The bride attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for a year and later enrolled at Belleville Area College.

The groom is now serving with the U.S. Army and is stationed in West Berlin, Germany. Mrs. Williams plans to leave soon for Germany.

Emerson PTA to hear Stucke

Don Stucke, president of the Granite City Board of Education, will be guest speaker at Emerson Parent-Teacher Association meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 11. Parents of all Emerson pupils are being invited to attend.

John Grady, PTA Public Relations chairman, said Stucke will discuss current financial problems in the local school district, including proposed budget cuts and possible solutions now being considered by the board.

A question and answer session is planned. Refreshments will be served after the meeting, according to Karen Brown, PTA president.

Lennon born English composer, musician and a member of The Beatles, John Lennon was born at Liverpool on Oct. 9, 1940.

Diets can be dangerous if not planned, controlled

By DEBORAH WILLIAMS
St. Elizabeth
Medical Center

Throughout the year, the average American is hit with a barrage of quick weight loss diets in magazines, newspapers and on TV talkshows.

There is the "at work" diet, the "10-day shape-up" plan, or that very special diet developed by some well-known personality.

According to Nancy Wargin, chief dietitian at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, all this advice doesn't take into consideration the overall nutritional value of a diet plan or its possible physical side effects.

"Individuals respond differently to very low calorie diets," said Mrs. Wargin.

"Even persons with no previous history of health problems have experienced medical complications after only a few weeks on a very low calorie regimen."

Medical complications can include dizziness, nausea, weakness and even death.

"The American Society of Bariatric Physicians (ASBP), physicians who deal specifically with the treatment and prevention of obesity, has issued a strong warning against all low-calorie diets stating, 'Low calorie diets (including powdered instant mix formulas and premixed liquid preparations) pose a significant health hazard to dieters not under continuous and immediate medical supervision by a physician knowledgeable in metabolism and nutrition of such diets. Such supervision includes appropriate laboratory evaluation at regular intervals.'"

Commercial diet plans, which advertise 800 calories or less per day, are among the latest fad sweeping the country. Included in this dieting craze is the 300-calorie-a-day Cambridge Diet Plan, which is representative of the "liquid protein" diets of the late 1970's.

The powdered milkshake-like formula, developed in England at Cambridge University, contains 100 percent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances (RDA) for vitamins and minerals, 75 percent of the U.S. recommended protein level and all trace elements and electrolytes.

"The majority of the public have a misconception of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances," said Mrs. Wargin, "and these types of diets capitalize on this."

"The RDA's represent average values developed by a panel of the National Academy of Sciences. When on the low-calorie-type diets, individuals are in a fasting situation. The RDA's do not represent all the nutrients an individual requires during stressful situations such as during a fast," she added. Some of the dangers of these types of diets noted by nutritionists include inadequate carbohydrate and protein intake; continual "bouncing" weight (which is worse than stable obesity); large negative nitrogen balance and low intake of protein, leading to a possible loss of lean muscle.

The American Dietetic Association (ADA), representing 47,000 dietitians and nutritionists, said the quick weight loss, low-calorie diets are not a "common sense approach to weight loss and should not be undertaken without strict monitoring of a medical professional."

For the majority of American dieters, extreme low-calorie diets do not hit at the source of the problem — poor eating habits. Quick weight loss plans may offer short term solutions, but do not encourage permanent healthy eating or weight maintenance.

Randall B. Lee, executive director of the ASBP, said, "Since ideal weight maintenance is the goal, any program attempted must be comprehensive in nature and include behavior modification which produces lifestyle changes. It also must provide nutritional education and a reasonable method of weight loss."

According to Lee, these diets reduce such nutrients as potassium and calcium to a point that a deficiency of those nutrients may result. If careful supervision is not maintained throughout the diet, it can result in the breakdown of muscle material and fat, including heart muscle tissue, as well as skeletal muscle.

Nutritionist Marilyn Stephenson of the FDA's Office for Nutrition and Good Sciences has evaluated many types of diets and has come to the following conclusion:

"If you follow just about any diet published in magazines or books, you will lose weight. This is because these diets, regardless of whether they emphasize calorie counting, will fall in the range of 1,000 or 1,200 calories a day or less, and the ones that differ drastically from the usual way of eating force the dieter to change eating habits, which almost always results in a person eating less."

"However, it is important in selecting a diet for weight loss to be sure that you are not endangering your health. One of the best ways I know to do this is to go on a low-calorie (1,000 to 1,200 a day) diet that is not extreme in either carbohydrate or protein intake and contains a variety of foods. This can often be done by simply eating smaller portions of the foods you ordinarily eat, while minimizing the fat content," she said.

She admits that, for some people, eating less of their usual fare involves more willpower than drastically changing the types of foods they eat. But although it may be harder, in the end it is safer and probably more productive in terms of changing eating habits.

Mrs. Stephenson also advises consulting a physician and then, if possible, a nutritionist or dietitian before beginning a diet. It is particularly hazardous for people with specific diseases, such as intestinal disorders or diabetes, to follow some types of diets. Persons should ask their physician if a vitamin or iron supplement is advisable, especially if the dieter is contemplating a diet of less than 1,200 calories a day. Dieters should keep track of calorie intake with special attention given to portion size, and eat several small meals a day instead of three larger ones, it is suggested.

Once a person is successful in losing weight, the next step is how not to regain those unwanted pounds, Mrs. Stephenson says.

This question may have as many specific answers as there are persons who ask it, but in general, according to Mrs. Stephenson, the most effective way to keep weight down is to continue the new eating habits developed during the weight loss diet while increasing calorie intake to a maintenance level.

For Americans, this apparently means eating fewer than 1,500 calories a day, according to data from the Health and Nutrition Examination Survey.

Reviewing this finding, Dr. Allan L. Forbes, FDA's associate director for nutrition and food sciences, notes that people consuming 1,500 calories a day need to pay particular attention to the amount of nutrients in the foods they eat. For example, green and yellow vegetables are a wise choice because they contain generous amounts of vitamin A and other nutrients, but are low in calories.

Warriors fall in second half to Cahokia, 67-50

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — Nothing could have been finer for Granite City South during halftime of Saturday's Gateway East Conference game at Cahokia.

South, coming off its first win of the season Friday at Roxana, was tied with the Comanches 45-45 at halftime. Throughout the first half, South controlled the pace of the game. There were few indications South would give way in the second half.

Had Warrior coach Don Deterding known what would happen to South in the third quarter, he would have locked his team in the locker room.

In a matter of eight minutes, Cahokia turned a close game into a blowout. Cahokia ended up beating the Warriors 67-50.

To understand how such a close game turned into such a lopsided game, you have to start at the beginning.

Deterding knew if South tried to run with Cahokia for 32 minutes, the Warriors lose badly. Instead, South slowed down the offense to work for a good shot. Deterding threw in some running to keep the Comanches honest.

For 16 minutes, South's strategy worked well. Maybe too well.

South was able to work the ball inside to 6-3 senior forward Pat Linhart, who scored 14 points in the first half. Not only did Linhart have to carry most of the shooting load, he had to do much of the rebounding for the Warriors in the half because center Brian Pithers was in foul trouble.

Linhart filled the bill time the first half, but the signs of exhaustion were easily visible. Linhart's hair was soaked from the sweat he worked up trying to control the inside game, and it was visible Linhart couldn't carry the whole load for 32 minutes.

"I wanted us to call a time out when we were trying to run the ball up and down the court, but everything happened so fast that we couldn't get to them to call a time out before we lost the ball again."

Don Deterding
Warrior cage coach

As soon as the third quarter started, the momentum moved to Cahokia and stayed there. With 2:36 left in the quarter, the Comanches held a six points lead, 37-31. The next two minutes would be a nightmare for Granite City South.

South committed FIVE turnovers in only ONE minute. The Warrior tried to throw the Comanches' game by trying to throw the ball downcourt quickly and failed miserably. In one minute, Cahokia increased its lead from 37-31 to 45-31.

"I wanted us to call a time out when we were trying to run the ball up and down the court, but everything happened so fast that we couldn't get them to call a time out before we lost the ball again," Deterding said.

South managed to call time out with 1:34 left, but as soon as the ball got back on the court, Cahokia's man-to-man pressure forced a turnover.

By the time the damage was over, Cahokia was ahead 53-35.

"When the other team starts to run the ball, you don't want to play their game. You want to slow the game and perhaps call a time out to stop their momentum. Instead, we tried to get down the court quickly, and we lost the ball. Everything was happening so fast that we couldn't do anything to stop it," Deterding said.

Cahokia coach Ken McBride also had his explanations for the Cahokia spurt. "Jerry Goodman was the reason why we came on strong," McBride said. "We weren't playing with much intensity early in the quarter, so I called a time out. I told Jerry that he's got to hit the boards if he's going to score. After that, we became very intensive, and that was the difference."

Goodman scored 10 points in the quarter to guide the spurt.

"We hit them hard with the pressure. Once they tried to run with us, our pressure became very effective, and we got the ball back," McBride said.

"We scored 12 points in about one minute. If we played with that much intensity for a whole game, we could have about 400 points each game," McBride said.

Both Deterding and McBride agreed when South was able to work for a good shot, they were tough. They agreed that when South tried to run with Cahokia, it was no contest.

"South isn't a bad team. In the first half, they played the game at their tempo, and they were effective when they worked for the good shot. When they tried to run, they couldn't get much together because it's very difficult to run with our players," McBride said.

Linhart was the only Warrior in double figures with 20 points.

Steve Goodwin led Cahokia with 16 points, Randy Goodwin had 14 points, Jerry Goodwin had 12 points and Anthony Rhodes added 10 points for Cahokia, 7-4 for the season.

The Comanches, which shot a pitiful 8 of 30 from the field in the first half, made 14 of 21 shots in the third quarter and ended up making 29 of 69 shots for the game. South made 23 of 64 attempts.

South, 1-10 for the season and 0-4 in the GEC, hosts Granite City North Friday and travels to Collinsville Saturday.

Warriors down Roxana for first win

ROXANA — Granite City South's boys basketball team had been trying to put the pieces together all season, but the Warriors never quite put the puzzle together for a victory.

The Warriors, winless in their first nine games, found all the pieces, and defeated Roxana 67-60 in a non-conference basketball game at Roxana Friday.

"The boys were very happy about the win. It's hard to be on the bench as a coach when you're losing, especially the way we have been losing," South coach Don Deterding said. "It's equally as difficult for a player on a 0-9 team because they have to face the other students everyday."

South trailed 32-30 at halftime, but the warrior defense allowed the Shells to score only seven points in the third quarter. Meanwhile, South scored 16 points in the quarter to take a seven-point lead by the end of the quarter.

The Warriors and Shells both scored 21 points in the final quarter. Part of the reason why Roxana couldn't catch up was because of the hot hand of 6-3 forward Pat Linhart.

The senior scored 14 points in the fourth quarter and finished the game with 28 points.

"Pat really came through at the right time with 14 points at the end of the game, and I think eight of those came off offensive rebounds," Deterding said.

In many of South's games, Linhart had to carry much of the scoring load by himself. Friday, he received a little help.

Center Brian Pithers added 16 points and forward Paul Macios scored 10 points to even out the scoring load for South.

The Warriors also shot better than average to earn their first victory. South made 29 of 57 attempts from the field for 31 percent.

South picked up 18 offense rebounds for the game, and Deterding thought that was the reason South was able to pull out the victory.

"The key to future success is if we play a complete mental game. We've done a lot of things right all season, but we haven't been able to put everything together in one game," Deterding said.

Brad Haug scored 23 points for Roxana, tops for his team.

The Shells are 5-8 for the season.

Warriors win, lose

North grapplers edge Pekin, remain undefeated

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — In Granite City North's first 12 dual wrestling meets this season, the Steelers have had it pretty easy.

Not only did the Steelers win all 12 of their previous dual meets, North didn't have to struggle to hard to win the Granite City South Holiday Invitational Tournament.

The Steelers were due for a challenge.

North needed the help of two forfeits to defeat Pekin 29-24 Saturday in a double dual meet at North. In the second half of the double-header, North demolished Bartonville Limestone 57-3.

Granite City South also wrestled Limestone and Pekin Saturday in a parallel double-dual meet. The Warriors beat Limestone 45-16 but lost to Pekin 40-24.

The Steelers came very close to having their winning streak broken, but victories by four of the five previously undefeated Steele wrestlers and the forfeits sent North over the top.

North is now 14-0 for the season and has a 34 match winning streak going. South is 9-5 this season.

Steele coach Walt Whitaker was somewhat disappointed about the efforts of some of his wrestlers against Pekin.

"Some of the kids didn't go out and wrestle as well as they're capable. We needed our 185 wrestler (John Morris) to pull it out," Whitaker said.

The first match of the day was a good indicator of what was to come. North's Gary Mann and Pekin's Todd Murphy wrestled to a 2-2 draw.

Colin Davis, wrestling at 105, defeated Dave Klinghart 9-2 to keep his undefeated record intact. North's Greg Nemeth wasn't as lucky.

Nemeth, who moved from 105 to 112 last week, lost a 4-0 decision to Pekin's Todd Shea. Last year, Shea defeated Nemeth when the two wrestlers met.

"One loss won't hurt Gerg," Whitaker said. "It will make him a better wrestler. In the big meets, all of the records are thrown out the window, and it's whether you can take the pressure or not which will determine how far you go."

All of the other undefeated wrestlers made it past Pekin. At 126, Rod Unger defeated Ray Skozay 7-2. Bruce Widel, North's 155 pounder, pinned Jeff Thompson in 5:54, and Morris edged John Branchi in the late seconds of their match 6-5.

The only other North victories came from forfeits awarded to Monte Kessler at 145 and Bill Zimmer at 167.

Pekin coach Jack Stoudt said one of those wrestlers was injured while the other quit the squad, and Stoudt chose not to let inexperienced wrestlers go against North or South.

"Hopefully, we will learn that we have to work harder when we face tougher wrestlers, because the good wrestlers will take advantage of every opportunity."

Walt Whitaker
Steele wrestling coach

"We wrestled the best we did one of our tournament wrestlers, but everyone wrestled well for us," Whitaker hoped. The Steelers would learn a valuable lesson from the Pekin match.

"Hopefully, we will learn that we have to work harder when we face tougher wrestlers, because the good wrestlers will take advantage of every opportunity," Whitaker said.

North had a much easier time with Limestone. Only one Steele, Mark Whitaker, lost in the second match.

Mann held Dean Yocum 7-2. Davis pinned Joe Carey in 2:51. Nemeth defeated Mike Fauber 7-0. Brent McKenney (119) pinned Rob Johanson in 4:54. Unger pinned Pat Thornton in 3:13. Kessler defeated Skatnicki. Zimmer pinned Mark Hagel in 4:39, and Morris pinned Greg Borunick in 4:02.

At 138, Nemeth (138), Widel and heavyweight John Kramer won on forfeits.

"We competed much better in second match," Whitaker said.

South had nearly the same amount of success with Limestone.

At 96, Jeff Cotter pinned Yocum in 1:29. Darrin Singleton defeated Mather 8-2. Sean McGovern beat Fauber 6-3 at 112. Tim Sparks, 119, pinned Johanson in 3:39. Jeff Hoese beat Thornton 8-3 at 126 and Jon Frangulins pinned Hagel in 1:29 at 167.

Mike Fenoglio, 138, Mark Dowdy, 155, and Paul Hitchcock, HWT, all won on forfeits.

"A couple of our freshmen won for us, and that's good because it helps boost their morale," South coach Bill Schmitt said.

The bad news of the meet for the Warriors was that Dave Brown, South's 185 wrestler may have separated his shoulder during a match with Borunick of Limestone. Schmitt did not know how long Brown would be out of the line-up.

South didn't have a lot of success with Pekin. Only two wrestlers who actually wrestled won, and South's other two winners won on forfeits.

Cotter pinned Murphy in 4:54 at 96, and the other Fauber, Hitchcock pinned Bicknell in 1:55.

"Pekin's as tough as any team we've faced this year," Schmitt said. "Cotter and Hitchcock were the only ones that won for us on the mat. Cotter has had some pretty solid performances for us, and the good thing about it is that he's only a sophomore."

North does not wrestle until Saturday when it travels to Carbondale to wrestle both Carbondale and Centralia. South travels to Belleville West Friday.

South's match with Normandy scheduled for Saturday has been cancelled because Normandy dropped wrestling.

Tigers thwart Steeler's hopes of GEC victory

By MICHAEL BARTELS

GRANITE CITY Midway through the fourth quarter, Saturday night, it was beginning to look as if the Granite City North Stealers might take home their first Gateway Conference title of the season.

But the high-flying show of Edwardsville's Mark Bradford and the useable foul shooting of the Steelers thwarted those hopes.

The Steelers hit only seven of 15 free throws, but that makes their shooting much better than it actually was, even of those eight missed free throws were first halves of one-and-ones.

North came out of the blocks timid on offense, allowing three first quarter baskets off of the offensive board and aught the ball up five times to the Edwardsville press. At the end of the first quarter North trailed the Tigers, 19-11.

In the second quarter the Steelers began to relax, bringing the ball up the court more confidently against the press.

The Tigers tried to do the Steelers a favor in the first half by fouling aplenty, putting the North quiet in the one-and-one before the end of the first quarter. North didn't accept the favor, though, as they missed the first shot of the bonuses four times in the first half.

Granite North Steelers

Edwardsville kept the margin at eight for most of the second stanza. With three minutes remaining, North closed the gap to four but two quick jumpers by the Tigers again extended the lead to eight.

Center Scott Cant again put the Steelers within four with 1:33 remaining in the half but the Tigers went to the locker room at the half ahead by six.

In the third quarter the score continued to see-saw from six to eight points, with the sophomore center beginning to become effective on the boards.

Midway through the quarter, Edwardsville seemed to be losing intensity, becoming lackadaisical on defense and shooting poor shots from the field. At the end of the quarter, Edwardsville's lead had been trimmed to only four, 43-39.

The Steelers smelled a victory. With 7:33 remaining in the fourth quarter, Steve Trittschuh stole the ball at mid-court, driving for the layup. After an Edwardsville score, Daren DePew canned an eighteen footer, bringing the Steelers back within two.

With six minutes left, DePew hit both ends of a one-and-one to tie the score at 45. DePew again scored for the Steelers, putting them ahead for the first time in the game, 47-45.

For the next three minutes the lead went back and forth. Edwardsville began to hit from the outside and with 3:20 remaining, Trittschuh fouled out of the contest.

With just under two minutes left, Cant hit a soft jump hook to bring the Steelers again within two, 51-49. Edwardsville's Brown hit both ends of a one-and-one to put Edwardsville back up by four, 53-49.

Brian Levin canned a 22-footer to bring the Steelers yet again within two, but Levin's basket proved to be the last score of the contest.

The Steelers got the ball on a travelling call in the back-court off of the press and called time out with 19 seconds left.

The Steelers brought the ball in bounds and passed it back and forth between Tate and DePew. With six seconds left, DePew fired a 20 footer but the lid closed on the basket. The shot hit the back, then the front of the rim, then popped out.

Point guard Sam Tate fouled Bradford with four seconds remaining. Bradford missed the toss and DePew again tried a long range bomb, this one from just past half-court, again hitting the rim and popping out.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf wasn't too disappointed with the performance of his kids, though. "The kids played hard," he said. "I'm extremely pleased with them. We had a good week of practice. I anticipated the kids' playing well."

Ohlendorf didn't get the chance to use part of the strategy he had devised for this game because of the team's poor shooting from the charity stripe. "We wanted to put full-court pressure on in the first half after making free throws, but we didn't make any. Free throws were the difference," he said.

The Steelers featured a balanced attack which placed four men in double figures. Cant led the Steelers with 14, Bradford added 13 and Levin and Tate contributed 10 apiece.

Brinkman led the Tigers with 14 and Bradford added 11.

In the jayvee contest, Edwardsville came back from a 10-point deficit at the beginning of the fourth quarter to beat the Steelers in overtime, 55-54.

The Steelers are in action next week as they travel cross-town to face inter-city rival Granite City South. Tip-off for the Junior Varsity game is scheduled for 6:15 with the Varsity contest following.

EDWARDSVILLE TIGERS (53): Bradford 5-2-12, Brinkman 5-1-14, King 12-3-4, Rogers 3-0-1-6, Roustio 2-0-0-4, Strahmeyer 3-0-1-6, Brown 3-2-4-8. FG 22-FT 17-17 PF 17.

Speedy Red Devils zip past Metro-East 77-50

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

VENICE — When in Rome, do as the Romans. When in Venice, don't try to catch the Red Devils for speed. That was the lesson Metro-East Lutheran learned from experience Friday night as Venice downed the Knights 77-50 in a 11th Gateway Conference cage matchup.

Throughout first quarter action, both teams played cautiously, each swapping leads and baskets before Venice eked a 17-16 eight-minute lead. In the second quarter, however, things were quite different.

Both teams started the second stanza sinking a pair jump shots from the perimeter. Venice's Micah Wiley put the Red Devils up by three as he hit a 1-foot jumper. The Knights' Barry Aubrey returned the favor with a looping jumper to move Metro-East to within 10 at 19-18.

After that, the Knights never threatened again. Venice's Salmond, Terron Ware, and Keith Marchbanks capitalized on a handful of Knight turnovers and Venice leads as the pace of the game quickened.

In little time, Venice jumped to a 10-point, 30-20, lead before the Knights paused for a time out.

"The tempo of the game got away from us in the second quarter," Knights' coach Ed Sievers said after the game. "They got a little ahead and then we panicked. Finally, their obvious talent got us," Sievers said.

Two reasons the Red Devils "got" the Knights were the hot hands of center Marchbanks and Salmond. Salmond paced Venice with 24 points while Marchbanks poured in another 21 for the Venice cause.

"Venice played real well tonight. I was impressed," Sievers said. "However, I didn't think we played as well as we could have." That was obviously a source of displeasure for the Knight helmetsman, now in his third year.

Venice coach Ken Perkins, on the other hand, was pleased with his team's performance against the Knights, who averaged five inches taller than his Red Devils.

"We played a real strong game tonight," Perkins said. "We learned early in the season how to play against taller teams," he said.

Metro East Knights

Perkins' interview was brief, but his summation was clear — What Venice lacked in height, it more than made up for in speed.

Sievers concurred: "The difference was their speed. That and our turnovers killed us," he said. In all, the Knights committed a dozen turnovers.

Despite the Knights' final 27-point deficit, the game was closer than the final score would indicate, mostly because of the heady, inside play of the Knights' Cliff Dellamano and Steve Cummins.

EDWARDSVILLE — The Metro-East Knights rebounded nicely Saturday night Friday night's loss to Venice, Saturday, the Knights defeated Livingston 78-52 in a Gateway Conference rivalry Livingston 8-52.

The Knights' Cliff Dellamano paced MELHS to its 10th win of the season with 28 points.

The Knights took an early 19-7 first quarter and later improved on that to take a 35 to 15 halftime lead.

Livingston's Eagles retaliated in the third quarter, to close the half, the conference as they outscored MELHS 20 to 14. The Knights got back on track in the final segment, easily outscoring their Illini-Gateway foes 29 to 17 to preserve the win.

Rensing led 'best ever' Warrior football team

By AL BARNES

of the Press-Record

It's a risky business to go out on a limb in naming the all-time best athletic team produced by a high school or a college. The sport of football is especially risky.

However, after exhaustive research, I'm plugging for the 1938 football team of Granite City High School, for the honor of being the best ever produced locally.

The Granite City High Happy Warrior eleven of '38 were co-champions with East St. Louis for the Madison-Si-Chair Conference crown. Coach Byron Bozarth's Granite City High eleven lost only one game, an early season 31-0 defeat at the hands of the E. St. Louis Flyers. That reversal had followed a 6-0 season opening verdict over Anna-Jonesboro. After their only loss, the Warriors beat Alton 13-12, Collinsville 13-12, Belleville (West) 13-6, Madison (6-0), Wood River (26-0), Crystal City, Mo. (31-0), and then arch-rival, Edwardsville (6-0). Collinsville helped the Warriors out by defeating East St. Louis.

Three other Granite City football teams came very close for the honor of being the best ever: the late 1920's eleven paced by Len Davis, the early 1930's squad spearheaded by the late Pat Rich, and the mid 1940's team which was led by Bill Schooley.

Star of the "best ever" Granite City grid squad was Emmet (Mutt) Rensing, one of football first triple-threat stars — running, passing and kicking. His grid exploits were so outstanding that I knew of them even though I was living in Cairo at the time. He was probably the most sought after prep gridder up to that time. He was Granite City's all everything offensively and time-and-time again was the player who made the big play on the offense to win the big and key games.

He was sought and heavily recruited by Notre Dame, University of Michigan, the Fighting Illini, U.C.L.A., Southern Cal and many, many others.

Then, you ask, why did Rensing opt to play his collegiate football across the Mississippi River for the Bills of the St. Louis?

It wasn't that the Bills didn't have a standout football program, because they did. SLU played on an equal basis then with the likes of Notre Dame, Mizou and you name them. One of Rensing's best games in college came against the Tigers of Missouri U. when Maplewood High's "pitching" Paul Christman was the star of the Columbia, Mo., club.

In talking with the modest Rensing, it suddenly dawned on me that his reason for deciding on St. Louis U. must have been a very personal and highly understandable one: as the French say, "Cherchez la Femme," which translates roughly, it must be a woman. It was: a pretty junior coed at Granite City High in Mutt's senior year, one Aline Vogeler.

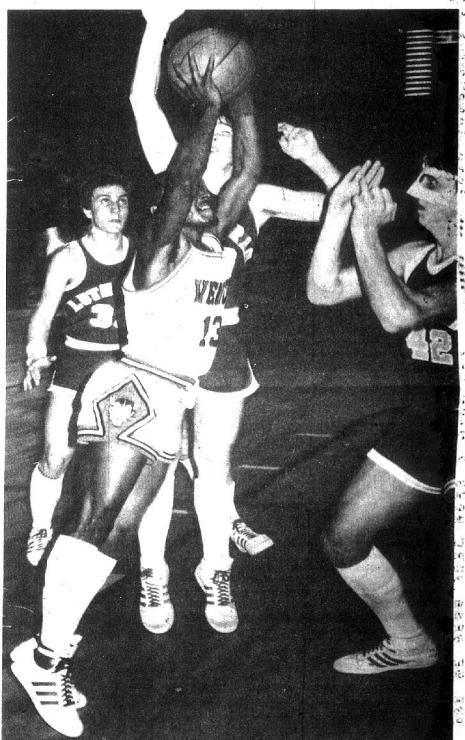

Married these many years, the couple had three children and live in Collinsville in a home that Rensing built nearly 10 years ago. After World War I, Rensing bought $500 worth of lumber in California and had it shipped to his home site on the bluffs overlooking Illinois. Route 157 at a cost of $500. The house now is estimated to be worth at least $150,000.

After earning his degree in business at St. Louis, Rensing went to work for an accounting firm and soon after he struck out on his own. The move has proven very rewarding for him. In addition to his successful accounting firm, Rensing is co-owner with her brother-in-law, George Vogeler, in a machine shop business in downtown Granite City.

Mutt Rensing is fullsome in his praise of all his teammates on the 1938 squad, but singles out two for special praise: his pass-catching buddy at end, left end Verne Purvines, and right tackle, Ralph Kalert. He cited the Warriors' 6-0 victory over nearby Madison: "It was his pass to Purvines which set up the winning touchdown and it was the hole opened at tackle by Kalert which allowed Rensing to plunge the final four yards for the winning TD."

Len Davis pointed out an oddity of Rensing's collegiate football career: he was recruited as the nation's best rushing halfback, but never carried the ball in college. During Mutt's four years at St. Louis, the Bills used the famed Notre Dame box which called for the quarterback to be used as a blocking back. Rensing started at St. Louis under coach Cecil Muellerleile and finished under Duke Duford. 1940-41, the man generally accredited with fashioning the Bills' highly successful basketball teams after World War II until recent years.

WORKING UNDERNEATH. Venice's Terron Ware works this shot underneath during third quarter action Friday night in Venice. The Red Devils defeated Illini-Gateway rival Metro-East 77-50 to remain undefeated. Looking on are Cliff Dellamano (42), Jon Hilmer (33) and an unidentified Knight behind Ware.

Madison downs Assumption in sloppy contest

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — Larry Graham and the Madison Trojans will take any basketball victory they can get.

Even though Madison played one of its sloppiest basketball games of the season, Assumption was equally as sloppy. That's why Madison defeated the Pioneers 72-62 Friday at East St. Louis.

"It's been hard for us to play at this court, and I was pleased we came out with a 10-point victory," Graham said. "Both teams were sloppy, and I thought it was going to be another close game. We just had a little spurt near the end to pull it out."

Sloppy was definitely the key word for the game. Both teams combined for 32 turnovers—15 for Madison and 17 for Assumption—in the game. Turnovers were definitely the turning point of the game.

Assumption coach Greg King said, "A lot of our turnovers were silly turnovers. Their press didn't bother us at all. We broke through it pretty well. It was just the turnovers we made when no one was bothering us that hurt us the most."

Turnovers played a critical part in determining the outcome of the game in the third quarter.

Prior to the 2:30 mark of the third quarter, neither team made any moves, and Madison was hanging on to a 45-43 lead. From that point on, turnovers plagued both teams. Both teams made four turnovers in those final moments. Madison increased its lead to 48-43, partly because of turnovers, but a pair of Madison turnovers led to two free throws by Derrick Berry and a basket by John Moody that cut Madison's lead to 48-47.

On the following play, Madison's Michael Young was fouled, but he missed the free throw and Assumption picked up the rebound. However, Assumption lost the ball on a bad throw, and the Trojans got it back.

The Pioneers picked off a Madison pass in the last second of the quarter, and tried a last gasp shot, but the buzzer sounded before the shot was made.

Madison then used the early part of the fourth quarter to pull away from Assumption and had a 15 point lead with 3:12 left in the game.

Why was the game sloppy? "Their defense allowed us to do some things we weren't used to doing, and we played a lot more openly than we're used to. We made a few more mistakes because we weren't familiar with that, and it was a lot like a race horse ball game out there," Graham said.

Also part of the reason Madison didn't play a disciplined game was because guard John Hughes was effectively controlled. Hughes only scored two points for the Trojans and did not play a factor in the game.

As far as his scoring contributions were concerned, the other Trojans more than made up for it. Four players finished the game in double figures. Leroy Pryor led the Trojans with 20 points. Young scored 16 points, Keith Wyatt added 12 points and Terrence Hamilton had 11 points.

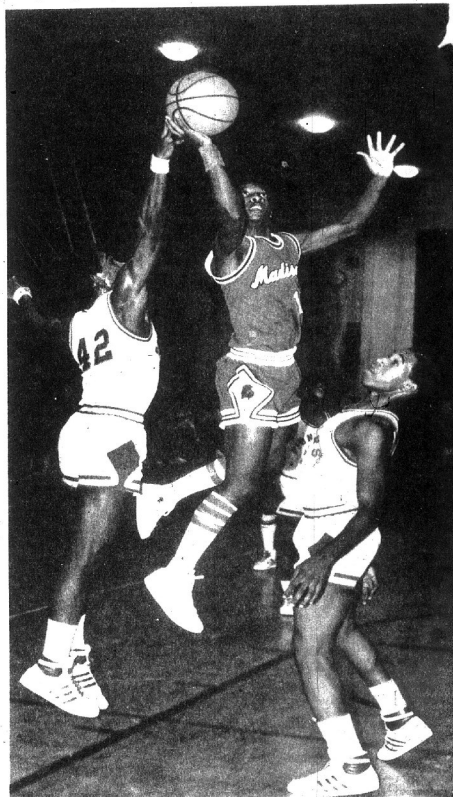

The Trojans made 27 of 60 shots from the field for 45 percent while Assumption was 25 of 50 for 50 percent.

"Without Hughes having his usual game, we were making some bad shot selections, and we missed so shots inside too," Graham said.

Berry led Assumption with 15 points. Terrance Anthony and Antoine Liddell both had 14 points and Moody had 12 points.

Despite the turnovers, King contended Assumption played a much better game than it did in the first meeting between the two schools. "We played 100 percent better than we did early in the season. We cut down on our turnovers a lot."

"However, we are still making some mistakes we shouldn't be. I guess I have to take part of the blame, but the players also have to share the blame for the way we're performing," King said. Madison, 8-2 for the season, plays Valmeyer Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the first round of the Dupu Rond Robin tournament. Assumption is 5-5 so far.

PRESSURE FROM BOTH SIDES. Madison's John Hughes goes up for a shot even though Assumption's Antoine Liddell (42) is trying to block the shot and Derrick Berry is on the other side. The Trojans defeated Assumption 72-62 Friday.

Ruth: Not always a slugger

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

What was your most disappointing experience in sports?

I don't just mean seeing your favorite team lose a heart-breaking, nail-biting, "could have gone either way" thriller. That's a happening we sports-loving Americans are used to. It's always a bitter happening, but within days we always snap out of it with this saying: "Just wait until next year."

However, most of us have one bitter, aching disappointment that I don't think that we ever overcome or forget.

Mine came on a hot, miserably humid sweaty day in mid-July on the South Side of Chicago in 1924. I was just 12 years old. I, like most boys of the time, had a baseball hero. Most of us had our favorite team; mine was the St. Louis Cardinals who, at the time, were two years away from winning their first National League pennant and their first World Series flag. Against the New York Yankees in seven games in 1925.

And, while the Red Birds were my special team, the man who was my hero then was the star of the New York Yankees, one Herman (Babe) Ruth, the Sultan of Swat.

Back there in 1924, I lived at the Illinois Odd Fellows Orphans Home in Lincoln, Ill. I played the alto horn in the home band. Now, nearly every town in the state of Illinois had a band. Then, a band made up of kids from 10 to 16, like we were, was somewhat of a novelty. Consequently, in the summer months the Odd Fellows lodges throughout the state invited the Orphans Home band to play at their parades and picnics, or what have you.

In that mid-summer of 1924, we spent a whole week in Chicago. One of the treats for us was an afternoon game at Comiskey Park pitting the Yanks against the White Sox.

The game wasn't much. The Yanks demolished the White Sox in an awesome display of hitting power.

their special trademark, as it were.

By the fifth inning I was nearly in tears. After the Yanks took their last turn at bat in the ninth, I was crying like a baby.

Why was I crying? My man, the mighty Babe had come to bat five times and five times he had struck out.

Funny thing, though was that every time he fanned the fans cheered as if the Babe had walloped the ball way out into Lake Michigan. Come to think about it, Babe Ruth looked better fanning than most modern hitters do slugging a four-bagger.

But, at the time, I was a heartbroken young lad. Now, nearly a million years later, I realize what had happened to my hero. The Babe loved life and lived it as if each minute was his last. I realize now that when he fanned those five times he probably was seeing four to five pitched balls floating to the plate and had difficulty picking out the real one.

He'd probably spent the previous night imbibing a great deal of Al Capone's illegal beer in a Cicero speakeasy. And, of course, couldn't see the ball. At the time, though, I was heartbroken.

More than twenty years later (1946), after the Babe had retired in the mid-thirties, he was doing some public relations work for the Ford Motor Co. Any my sports editor at the St. Louis Star-Times assigned me to spend a day with the Babe as he visited various boys' clubs in the area. By this time, the fatal illness which finally killed him, made his voice rasp in harsh tones. Normally, in his peak days, his voice was somewhat high-pitched.

Finally, I asked him if he remembered that day back in 1924. Quick as a flash, he answered: "Yep, but you know I hold the all-time records for striking out." You know, he was right. You can look it up.

Judge cites man, 61, for contempt

Michael W. Billick, 61, of Rural Route 20, Box 756, was cited for contempt by Associate Judge John W. Day in a court appearance last week in Granite City.

Billick, who was scheduled to appear for a non-jury trial on a charge of failure to give information at the scene of an accident, allegedly arrived in an intoxicated state and created a disturbance.

He was remanded to the custody of police officers until he was sober and reconvened the following day.

On the later date, Billick was sentenced to serve seven days in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville, with the sentence being reduced by one day for time already served.

He was transferred to the county facility by sheriff's deputies Thursday.

Guiltily plea by youth, 15, in mishap

A 15-year-old youth arrested after being involved in a one-car accident in the 1600 block of East 23rd Street, pleaded guilty in the Circuit Court of Madison County to charges of not having a valid driver's license and driving on a suspended license.

He was fined $50 and costs and referred to Coordinated Youth Services to work out the fine.

No action was taken at the time on two outstanding warrants alleging failure to appear in court on a traffic charge and two curfew violations.

In the incident, a vehicle operated by the youth failed to make a turn on East 23rd Street at Monroe Street and crossed into the opposite lane, going into a ditch.

The auto continued along the sidewalk and came to a halt against the east side of a building at 1632 E. 23rd.

Finds intruder inside residence

Police are looking for a man about 18 years old, of this build and 5 feet, 11 inches tall, who fled from the residence of Rose Hahne, 2801 N. 28th Street, when he arrived home Thursday to find the intruder standing in her living room.

A beam ran out of the front door and fled behind the Mr. Twist Ice Cream shop on the corner of East 28th Street and Namek Road. He then ran west on East 28th Street. A search of the area proved negative.

A beam ran out of the house was ransacked and items in two other rooms had been disturbed. Mrs. Hahne's dog was found in a bedroom with one of its paws bleeding, the report stated.

The intruder was wearing a light blue stocking cap, a light blue jacket and jeans.

A burglary was discovered last week when neighbors informed police that a door was standing open at the home of Patricia Verdu, 3206 Klumey Drive, Edwardsville.

Initially found missing from this residence were a 19-inch color television, a 12-gauge Mossberg shotgun, a 30-30 caliber rifle and a .38 Smith & Wesson.

One bedroom in the dwelling was ransacked and other areas of the home were disturbed. The intruder, a woman, was being taken.

INNOCENT PLEA TO BURGLARY

In an appearance at 4:15 p.m. Friday in the Granite City Court, Robert James P. 1111 E. 4th St. Kirkpatrick Homes, pleaded innocent to a charge of residential burglary.

Bond was set at $20,000 and a mittimus was to be issued. Paulin was arrested on a warrant at 1:15 p.m. Thursday at his home.

SERVE WARRANTS

Responding to a disturbance call at an address in the 2800 block of Buxton Avenue at 6 a.m. Sunday, police recognized Steve R. Whitehead, 2218 Grand Ave., for whom two outstanding warrants had been issued, alleging failure to appear in court on a traffic charge and a traffic violation.

Whitehead had a small cut on his forehead, believed incurred in the disturbance, but he declined medical attention, officers said.

COUNTY WARRANT

Pamela R. Wanick, 19, of 2940 Myrtle Ave., was arrested by the Edwardsville Police Department at 3:40 p.m. Friday on a warrant issued by the Madison County sheriff's office for failure to appear in court on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

She pleaded innocent in a court appearance on the same day and bond was set at $327 cash. Sometime later, she was ordered released on recognizance and a county warrant by another judge.

Shots fired at GC tavern

A Madison County sheriff's deputy responded to a call at the Curve Inn Tavern, 2121 N. 28th Ave., at 12:42 a.m. Saturday. Barmaid Sharon Grupey told the deputy that shots had been fired from the front door of the establishment.

During an investigation, it was determined at least one slug, believed to be .38 caliber, had entered a wall just above a patron's head. The incident is believed to be related to a shooting which occurred previously in the tavern.

The barmaid reported seeing a man run from the Curve Inn in the direction of the Little Dover Inn, 2542 Missouri Ave. She did not see the man enter that tavern, however.

HOUSE BURGLARY ON CHESHIRE TRAIL

A burglar entered through the kitchen door at the home of Peggy Reynolds, 2127 Cheshire Court, Saturday, and took jewelry and coins valued at $2,200. Nothing was listed as missing on the report given at 1:35 a.m.

JEWELRY AND COINS TAKEN IN BURGLARY

An estimate $2,500 to $3,000 worth of jewelry and coins were taken from the Carol Dumoulin, 2182 Harrison Ave., according to a report given to a Madison County sheriff's deputy at 12:17 p.m. Sunday. Entry was through a sliding door.

Whistler's father designed rail line

You know about James M. Whistler's mother from his famous painting of her, but what about his father? A tall obelisk marks his grave at a Stonington, Conn. cemetery.

George Washington Whistler lived in that city from 1837 to 1864, while designing the state's first rail line. He also laid out the Moscow-St. Petersburg in Russia.

"Mother" is not buried near him; her grave is in Hastings, England, where she died in 1881.

Lincoln born

Abraham Lincoln, 16th president of the United States was born on Feb. 12, 1809, near Hodgenville, Ky.

PARTY ENDS WITH DISORDERLY CHARGE

Police received a call of an alleged loud party at an apartment at 2737 Iowa St. at 1:55 a.m. Friday and warned the occupant, Cheryl A. Theke, 29, to have her guests leave or face arrest.

Officers returned to the address upon getting a call at 2:20 a.m. and arrested Miss Turner. She was charged with disorderly conduct on a complaint signed by the apartment manager, Beverly Kane.

SENTENCE INCLUDES SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

A young Granite City woman pleaded guilty to misdemeanor theft in a court appearance last week before Associate Judge Norman Kinder. She was fined $100 and ordered to enroll in school for six months and to enroll at a local high school at the earliest possible time.

The girl was arrested at the rear of the 2400 block of N. 28th Street, where she allegedly was screaming obscenities at her step-mother who had followed her into the area.

She was charged with $4 in change from a bedroom closet.

The theft complaint was signed by the stepmother.

STOLEN CARD USED

A credit card company investigator informed Granite City police at 2 p.m. Thursday that a card stolen in an armed robbery at a Little Chiff (Ill.) rest stop had been used at several area stores, including Chaney's Restaurant. At the local restaurant three men and a woman used the card to purchase food items, amounting to $49.

On the same day at the Red Lobster Restaurant in Fairview Heights, four men attempted to pay for a meal with the same card and reportedly were arrested, it was learned.

ENGLISH CLASSES START THIS WEEK

English as a Second Language classes will be offered by the Bellefonte College Basic Education Department during the spring 1983 semester.

Classes meet from 9:15 a.m. to noon, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30 to 9:15 p.m.

The Granite City Public Library, in association with the Metro-East Chapter of the March of Dimes, will sponsor a March of Dimes Reading Olympics Jan. 15 through Feb. 12. The Olympics raises money to help in the fight against birth defects.

In the Reading Olympics, each child selects a book at his own reading level to read for his own pleasure (not a textbook). Sponsors are signed up who pledge to donate an amount of money to the March of Dimes for each book that the child reads. The amount can be a dime, quarter, dollar or any other amount. The child's parents will certify that each book was read.

At the end of the Reading Olympics, the child counts the number of books read and collects the pledges from the sponsors in the form of checks payable to the March of Dimes. Each child will receive an iron-on emblem and certificate of achievement and will be eligible to receive gold, silver or bronze medals, depending on the number of books read. The child's name will be given to the child who reads the most books and to the one who raises the most money.

Interested children are being urged to sign up at the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave., for the Reading Olympics.

Major address by Lazerson

President Earl Lazerson of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will give a report to the university board of trustees Thursday, Jan. 13, at 3:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theater.

The president has indicated he will discuss major issues affecting the University.

A reception will be held in the lobby of the Communications Building immediately following the discussion.

Bill Bronnbauers name on Scott

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bronnbauer of Granite City, have selected the name of Scott for their son, born on Dec. 28, at St. Luke's West Hospital in St. Louis.

The infant weighed eight pounds, eight ounces. The mother is the former Laura Edwards.

HOLLYWOOD HEADLINER

The props being used in "The Blue And The Gray," Columbia TV's mammoth mini-series for CBS, are historically accurate — except in one case.

The producers admit they were never able to round up the authentic body lice needed for the show.

The Confederate soldiers would put the lice in the middle of plates, and bet on which would go over the rim first.

Trying to re-create this bit of history, the producers had to substitute other bugs for the lice.

No SPCA representative was on the set, but the producers assure that the louse stand-ins were treated kindly.

CBS is going ahead with long-nurtured plans to make a mini-series about George Washington.

It will probably air in 1983.

Katherine Helmond, who starred in "Soap," will make a TV pilot for Warners with Hector Elizondo, who was in "Freebie And The Bean."

It will be a comedy about a hotel managed by Hector and inherited by Katherine.

Katherine says it'll be totally different from "Soap."

Just back from doing a "Love Boat" episode in Australia, Helmond is getting together a one-woman show which she hopes to take Down Under, as well as to New York and elsewhere.

It's theme is the last day in the life of Zelda Fitzgerald.

First it was George Burns, and now it's Sir Ralph Richardson hitting the screens as God.

In "Time Bandits," Richardson plays the Supreme Being wearing a non-descript suit from his own wardrobe.

Sir Ralph originally wanted to wear a blue linen suit and Panama hat, arguing that the Supreme Being would come from a sunny climate.

But he was convinced that costume was inappropriate.

After all, it's not God, but someone else, who comes from a very warm place.

Lainie Kazan, who's cut four albums for MGM Records, will be in front of the MGM cameras in "My Favorite Year."

It's a comedy about live TV in the 50s, and will star Peter O'Toole.

Joanna Moore and her daughter Tatum O'Neal, who've been drawing closer emotionally for several years, are about to draw closer physically.

They're going to share a roof, but not the same apartment, with Joanna living on one floor and Tatum on another.

Ryan must approve the proposed arrangement, but he's given Joanna a housewarming present — an expensive down-filled sofa.

After appearing as a regular in two flop TV series, and in another near-miss, "Angie," Adrian Zmed has finally gotten what should be an effective show-case.

He'll co-star with Lorna Luft in Paramount's "Grease Two."

Take any four digit number for which not all the digits are alike. For example, you can use 9991, but not 9999. Rearrange the digits in descending order, then in ascending order. Subtract the smaller of these numbers from the larger. Continue in this fashion with your answer becoming the four digit number for which the digits are rearranged. Do this seven times. What happens?

Your Social Security

New card will have old number

Q. I lost my Social Security card but I remember the number. My boss said I should get a new card but I'm afraid my records will get all mixed up if I get a new card with a new number. — C.R.

A. Your new card will have the same number as your original card. It's a good idea to have your Social Security card with you at all times just in case your memory plays tricks on you and you give the wrong number when asked.

Go to your local Social Security office—with proof of identity to apply for a duplicate card.

Q. My son was turned down for disability benefits when he filed about two years ago. His condition is much worse now.

Can he file again even though he was turned down once? — J.Y.

A. He should file another application as soon as possible. It makes no difference if he was denied the first time. If his condition now is so severe that it can be expected to keep him out of work for 12 months and he meets the necessary work requirements, his application will be approved.

Q. My father will be 65 in two months. His employer has told him to apply for Medicare even though he's not going to retire.

Do you think this is some kind of trick by his employer to get him to retire? — K.L.

A. Your father can get Medicare at 65 even though he is still working. He should sign up before the month he is 65 to make sure he has full protection.

Many employers are taking a more active role in their employees' welfare to make sure they receive all the benefits they are eligible to receive.

Q. My wife is 65 but I am only 63. I don't want to apply for benefits until I am 65 but I am wondering if my wife, since she is already 65, can file for benefits on my account? — N.C.

A. Your wife will have to wait until you file in order to be eligible for dollar benefits on your account, but she could be entitled to the Medicare hospital insurance protection on your record at age 65.

If she worked herself long enough to qualify for dollar benefits on her own account she should file as soon as possible and again, she would also be eligible for Medicare.

Questions on Social Security may be sent to Eugene Williams, Social Security Office, P.O. Box 82727, San Diego, CA 92138.

THE DUKE'S BIRTHPLACE

Winterset proud of its native son

WINTERSET, Iowa — John Wayne, the epitome of manhood and the embodiment of the American spirit, was born of humble beginnings in a typical Midwestern farm town.

"The Duke" was born Marion Michael Morrison on May 26, 1907 in Winterset, 35 miles southwest of Des Moines. The small, four-room house in which he was born has been restored and recently opened as the John Wayne Birthplace, a shrine to all true John Wayne fans.

Winterset could be a movie set for a typical Midwestern town, from its neat town square with ornate county courthouse, to its quiet, tree-lined streets. In fact, the town has been used several times by movie companies searching for just the right setting for rural mid-America.

But, up until now, the town of barely over 4,000 people has been best-known for its covered bridges. There are seven examples of this vanishing bit of Americana within a couple of miles of the town.

Wayne's parents could have guessed that he would be a big man someday. He weighed in at a hefty 13 pounds when he was born to Clyde and Mary Morson in one of the back bedrooms of the house at 224 S. Second St. His father was a pharmacist at the M.E. Smith Drugstore on the south side of the square.

Two of the four rooms have been restored to the look they would have had in 1907. The furniture, although not authentic to the Morrisons', is typical of the period. A rickety rocking chair sits next to a cast-iron stove in the corner of the parlor. A wooden high chair sits next to the simple kitchen table and early stove.

One bedroom is set up as a small museum with pictures, movie posters and a battered suitcase used in one of Wayne's movies.

More Wayne memorabilia is being added as it is acquired. His heirs have promised to supply the museum with items from the Wayne household once his estate is settled.

Wayne only lived in the house for three years, then his father moved to nearby Earlham to open his own store.

The home is open by appointment during the winter.

The area's covered bridges, with their bright barn-red sides and black roofs, were all built at least a hundred years ago, and several still carry traffic from the local roads. There is a rugged charm to these rickety wooden bridges that cannot be found in the sleek, efficient concrete structures that have replaced them.

Maybe it is visions of the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow," or maybe just nostalgia, but whatever it is, people from all over flock to the covered bridges you can find there with the aid of a map from the Chamber of Commerce.

The bridges were covered not for the convenience of travelers, but to protect their massive hand-hewn beams and trusses and plank flooring. A close inspection of a bridge shows the marks left by workmen when they hand-shaped and cut the beams and planks. Wooden pegs can still be seen on some bridges, holding the beams and flooring together.

Most of the bridges are on gravel back roads. All are picturesque. Photographers and artists are often seen beside the placid streams capturing the essence of the bridges.

The bridges were constructed in the 1870s and 1880s. Most are on their original sites but some, such as the Cutler-Donahoe bridge in the city park, were moved to save them.

For further information, contact the Chamber of Commerce, 224 S. Second St., Winterset, Iowa 50273.
